ROGERS CONCLUDES DAUGHTERS OF '76 ARE RAH-RAH GIRLS

(Special To The News)
BEVERLY HILLS, Cal., April 16.—"The daughters of one of our early and most exclusive revolutions" are in a huddle in Washington. Membership in this proves that you did have a forefather on or about 1776. Non-membership proves that your forefathers, if any, must have sprung up from somewhere in just practically the last few years.

Mrs. Hobart, their president, made a speech yesterday against "entering Europe by pen or pencil and against sinking even a rowboat." She was cheered to the echo.

Then Mr. Hoover faced practically the same descendants a few hours later advocating: "Joining anything that had an application blank and sinking everything till we reached 'parity' with Switzerland." He was cheered to the same echo.

The only thing I can make out of it is the daughters like to cheer.

Yours,
WILL.

PA NEW OBSERVES

According to figures issued by the state, only 5,000 dogs have been licensed in Lawrence county, while the neighboring county of Mercer has 7,500. This would indicate that there are fewer dogs, or else a lot of people are evading the law.

Census figures will soon be announced here and a big shift in population centers is expected to be shown. Several wards will show big increases, while others will probably show losses, as many people have moved to the second and fourth wards since the last census was taken. A great number have also moved into the townships immediately surrounding the city.

Pa New notes a nice new fire alarm box across from the Castleton Hotel, which gives added protection to that section of the city.

There has been a great decrease in the number of grassfire alarms during the past few days, despite the continued warm weather. Most of the places have been burned off, it is believed.

Pa New fails to see many sucker fishers at the old Rosena dam site. That used to be a favorite spot, but since the dam has been removed, the pool below the old dam become filled up and the current is quite swift.

This is Cleanup week throughout the state of Pennsylvania and a lot of New Castle residents might do well to take cognizance of the fact and tidy things up about their property.

The move on the part of local welfare organizations to consolidate their efforts under one roof is a commendable one and should prove economical as well as facilitating the work of these organizations.

Work is progressing fast on the new Epworth M. E. church, corner of East Washington street and Butler avenue. Weather conditions have been good for work for the past week or so.

Mrs. McCormick Declines To Make Any Statement Concerning Charges

By WILLIAM K. HUTCHINSON
International News Service Staff Correspondent
WASHINGTON, April 16.—Blanket but rather indefinite charges of the use of excessive campaign funds have been lodged with the Senate's new campaign fund committee against Mrs. Ruth Hanna McCormick (R) of Ill., first woman to be nominated for the senate on a major party ticket, it was learned today.

A number of complaints, filed with Senator Nye (R) of N. D., the new chairman, charged both Mrs. McCormick and her defeated opponent, Senator Charles S. Deneen, with spending too much money in their battle for the Republican senatorial nomination. Nye declined to reveal the identity of the authors of the complaints but said he planned to turn them over to the committee.

Nye, at the same time, revealed there had been similar complaints against Senator Joseph R. Grundy (R) of Pa., and his rival, Secretary of Labor James J. Davis, in the Republican senatorial contest. The Keystone primary will be held next month.

"There is quite a file of complaints against the candidates in Illinois and Pennsylvania," said Nye. "There is nothing of a very specific nature against the candidates in Illinois and the complaints are only of a very general character. I shall present them to the committee to determine what action it wishes to pursue."

"Will you make these complaints public?" Nye was asked.

"Not at this time," he replied. "Lat- (Continued On Page Two)"

"Safety Clause" Terms Approved

Terms Of "Safety Clause" Agreed Upon By Three Leading Powers Today

DRAFTING WORK ABOUT FINISHED

By HARRY R. FLORY
International News Service Staff Correspondent
LONDON, April 16.—Terms of the "safety" clause to be included in the Tri-Partite naval treaty between Japan, Great Britain and the United States were agreed upon this morning by representatives of these nations during the course of a conference of all delegation heads at 10 Downing Street.

This clause, which, in effect, would permit Great Britain to go beyond her treaty limitation pledges in the event any European nation built her navy beyond the strength of the British sea forces, was the last problem delaying completion of the treaty draft.

The matter was discussed at length this morning by Prime Minister MacDonald, Secretary of State Stimson and Mr. Wakatsuki, the chief Japanese delegate. It was thought necessary to cable the terms of this clause to Tokyo for approval, but this was explained as merely a matter of procedure. Tokyo's approval being assured.

The drafting committee reported that their work on the treaty was 75 percent complete and that it would be finished tomorrow.

Party Workers Want Platforms Of Candidates

PINCHOT ADVOCATES ABOLISHMENT OF P. S. C.

Chieftains Now Laboring To Present Planks That Will Attract Voters

By WILLIAM B. BROWN
International News Service Staff Correspondent
HARRISBURG, April 16.—Those trusting souls who believe that the platforms of a political party or candidate have real significance are watching eagerly for the soon expected pronouncements of the major aspirants for public favor at the May primary.

For some reason all of the candidates with the exception of former Governor Gifford Pinchot have been slow in making public announcement of the various planks upon which they hope to build a party nomination.

Democrats Silent

The problems of the Democratic candidates who face no opposition within the party are comparatively simple. It has been taken for granted that the Democratic chieftains would await the announcements of warring hopefuls in the Republican ranks.

But party workers who ring door bells with one hand and hold a copy of a candidate's platform in the other are getting worried because they have no definite printed promises from the men whom they have been directed to support.

Even Pinchot's enemies admit that the issuance of his platform on March 26 when old line Republican leaders were even more divided than at present has proved a good political stroke. The Pinchot platform was short and to the point. It was not worded in the well worn political phrases which permit a double interpretation. It covered a wide field of present public grievances, side-stepping nothing but the important issue of prohibition.

Rev. Harrison Davidson Choice Of Shenango Presbytery On Tuesday

QUARTERLY SESSION HELD AT WESTFIELD

Take Action Against Ordaining Women As Ministers Or Elders

Rev. Harrison Davidson, pastor of the Enon Valley Presbyterian church today is the new moderator of the Shenango Presbytery of the Presbyterian church, having been elevated to this office at the regular meeting of the Presbytery, held all day Tuesday in the Westfield Presbyterian church, near Mt. Jackson.

Rev. Davidson succeeds the Rev. W. E. Ferver, pastor of the Presbyterian church at Unity, who served in the moderatorship capacity for some time. Rev. Ferver presided during the opening services yesterday and until the election of his successor.

Business In Morning

Outstanding among the matters of business action during the morning session, was the action of the Presbytery in deciding against ordaining women to become either ministers or elders. The decision followed a period during which the matter was discussed with thoroughness.

While the Presbytery decided against ordaining women for either the ministry or eldership, it did nevertheless take favorable action relating to the matter. (Continued On Page Two)

Five Men Sought For Attacking Of Taxi-Cab Driver

(International News Service)
PITTSBURGH, April 16.—Five men who during the night attacked a yellow cab driver then stole the cab were being sought by police here today.

Karl Kubrick, the driver, said three men engaged him in the downtown district to drive into the East End and when they arrived there they were joined by two others. He was pulled from the machine and beaten he said. He was given medical treatment at a Yellow garage.

The cab was found later when firemen answered a call to extinguish a blaze. It had caught fire from an overheated motor.

Brown Reaffirms Referendum Stand On Prohibition

Gubernatorial Candidate Announces Platform In Lengthy Statement Today

OPPOSES INTERFERENCE WITH STATE RIGHTS

Would Limit Coal And Iron Police And Put Them Under State Supervision

(International News Service)
PHILADELPHIA, April 16.—Reaffirming his recent declaration on prohibition and voicing his opposition to "interference with States' rights" as the refusal of the U. S. Senate to seat William S. Vare, Francis Shunk Brown, Sr., gubernatorial candidate on the Davis-Brown slate supported by Vare, issued his platform, or as he prefers to call it, his statement of principles today.

The statement is a lengthy document covering 12 typewritten pages and gives Brown's stand on many questions confronting the Commonwealth.

Fourteen Planks

Brown's stand on the leading questions of the state follows:

1. Suspension of increases in utility rates in cases before the Public Service Commission.
2. He proposes creation of the office of "People's Counsel" to represent the public.
3. Insists upon control over the security issues of public utilities.
4. Opposes the 4-cent gas tax asserting a 3-cent tax is sufficient to meet highway program needs.
5. Opposes stream pollution and demands remedy for existing conditions.
6. Calls for a referendum on prohibition.

Federal Court Holds Decision In Buhl Tax Case

Long Standing Litigation Ends With Arguments By Counsel Before Schoonmaker

(International News Service)
PITTSBURGH, April 16.—With arguments completed in the action brought by Fred W. Koehler and Julius F. Buhl to recover $330,228.12 in paid taxes from the government which the latter had collected as estate tax from the $2,000,000 endowment fund provided in the will of Frank H. Buhl, court today reserved decision in the case.

Pro and con arguments were made before Federal Judge F. P. Schoonmaker here. The Buhl will provided that the endowment fund be set aside for the benefit of the citizens of Sharon, Pa., by Buhl, iron manufacturer and widely known philanthropist who died on June 7, 1918, leaving an estate estimated at $5,467,450.

Protest Tax Payment

Arguments to recover the paid tax, with interest, are based on the contention of executors for the estate that the $2,000,000 was not taxable as it was a charitable gift. Government counsel contended, however, that as the will directed the money be placed in an endowment fund it was subject to tax.

The suit to recover the tax paid on the endowment fund is of long standing, having been brought against G. G. Lewellyn, former collector of internal revenue. Attorney John A. Cann, Pittsburgh representative of general counsel, bureau of internal revenue, and Assistant United States (Continued On Page Two)

McKeesport Youth Is Suicide Victim

Grief Stricken Over Loss Of Friend By Death, Young Man Kills Himself

(International News Service)
MCKEESPORT, Pa., April 16.—His desire to live, stronger than the natural will to live, today resulted in the death of John Dore, 19, grief stricken since the death of his comrade, Lawrence Moriarty, 21, 13 days ago.

The two boys had maintained a Damon-Pythias relation for ten years. They were inseparable in their work, their hobbies and their diversions.

On April 3, Moriarty died in McKeesport hospital from injuries suffered in a fall.

From the day of Moriarty's death, Dore became depressed and melancholy. He took up his residence at the home of the dead boy's parents.

Late last night the household retired, Dore bidding all the usual "good night."

Suddenly a revolver shot rang out from Dore's room. He was found lying on the floor, with a revolver near his hand.

By his side was a note which declared that life was "worthless" since death had taken his pal.

Is Proposed Forerunner To Lake Erie To Ohio River Canal Project

(International News Service)
WASHINGTON, April 16.—Survey of the Mahoning, Shenango and Beaver rivers by army engineers as a forerunner to the proposed Lake Erie to Ohio river canal will be incorporated in the new rivers and harbors bill, which may be formally approved by the house rivers and harbors committee tomorrow, it was assured today.

The survey by army engineers is directed in a bill introduced early in the session by Rep. Swick (R) of Pennsylvania and backed by both Pennsylvania and Ohio house members.

The proposed survey of the Shenango would extend to Greenville and the Mahoning to Warren, O., with the Beaver to the Ohio.

Rep. Cooper (R) of Ohio said today the survey would pave the way for the opening of water transportation from the Ohio to the important industrial areas of the Shenango and Mahoning valleys. It is a part of the proposed Lake Erie to Ohio river canal.

Twelve Rescued In Caribbean In Drifting Launch

J. W. Miller, Missionary, His Wife, Nine Children And Negro Servant Rescued

CUBAN GUNBOAT PICKS THEM UP

COLON, P. C. Z., April 16.—Completely exhausted from starvation and exposure, J. W. Miller, missionary of Jacksonville, Florida, his wife, nine children and a negro servant were rescued today after being stranded for nine days in a motor launch in the Caribbean sea.

Traveling from Boca Del Toro in his small craft, Miller ran out of gasoline on April 6. For days the launch drifted helplessly while Miller and his family kept a constant look-out for some passing vessel to tow them safely to shore.

The small launch finally was sighted by the Cuban Gunboat Patria about three miles off the Colon breakers and towed to shore. A lookout on the gunboat had spotted Miller's distress signal—a small American flag hanging upside down on the launch's tiny mast.

The Millers are a party of "volunteer missionaries" who left Jacksonville in June 1928 for a cruise throughout the West Indies. They founded a small church on the Isle of Pines, Cuba.

Miller told reporters today that he intended to give up preaching the gospel and find more lucrative employment.

"Nine children make a big family," he said. "I think I will go back to carpentering work."

Senators Up For Re-election Find Themselves In Quandary As Hoover Stands Pat

By GEORGE R. HOLMES
International News Service Staff Correspondent
WASHINGTON, April 16.—The hard luck that seems to follow President Hoover in his judicial appointments persisted today as senate leaders dawdled over the case of John J. Parker of North Carolina, nominated by Mr. Hoover three weeks ago for the United States supreme bench.

So serious has grown the opposition to Judge Parker's confirmation that Republican leaders in the senate fear to bring it to a vote, and the expedient has been adopted of postponing all action for a week while they try to find some way out of the situation.

May Hang Till December

Today the amazing proposal of deferring action for the rest of this session was actually being discussed in senate circles. Such action would be unprecedented, for unless Judge Parker is confirmed before the scheduled adjournment on June 1 he cannot, of course, be confirmed until the regular session beginning next December. And meanwhile, the supreme court would have to get along with eight justices instead of nine.

It was strongly denied at the White House that the Republican leadership in the senate has requested Pres- (Continued On Page Two)

Meet With Success In Getting Releases On Wurtemburg Road

County Commissioners P. O. Elder and T. J. McCullough have been meeting with success in obtaining releases from farmers along the Wurtemburg road, which is to be improved when the releases are all obtained. A committee of citizens, consisting of E. P. Workley, J. W. Offutt and Carl Davidson, has been rendering material assistance in the securing of the releases. Most of them have been obtained without paying anything, and in cases where actual damage has been suffered, the owners of the land have not been disposed to try any "hold ups," as all realize the big advantage of the proposed improvement.

Arthur Mometer

For months they've talked and talked and planned and spoken of the things they'd do, of cleaning house and painting up, a heavy schedule to get through. And I assumed they meant it all, but thought it might be just some static, when they discussed the ways and means of cleaning out the crowded attic. Books and tables and bits of rag, pictures sofas a musty hoard, all in the attic for years and years, all of them shoved there just to be stored. But miracles happen it seems as yet, and the attic cleaning is on its way, and the dust is flying and so is the junk, as they move things around, fifty-six today.

Wheat Acreage Reduction Asked By Farm Board

Wheat Industry Could Be Put On Profitable Basis By Acreage Reduction

(International News Service)
WASHINGTON, April 16.—The Federal Farm board is asking wheat farmers to reduce their acreage at least ten per cent because it does not believe that can put their industry on a profitable basis in any other way. Chairman Alexander H. Legge said today in a national radio address. "So long as America produces wheat far in excess of domestic requirements, the world market will largely determine the price they get for the entire crop," he said. "The American wheat farmer cannot hope successfully to compete in the world market with growers of other countries under present conditions. There are vast areas of land in the world where the investment in the land itself, taxes, labor and transportation give the producers in those countries a distinct advantage over our farmers." Legge said it would be impracticable for the world market price to apply only surplus production and to have the tariff effective on the wheat sold at home. He explained France was paying a bounty of 20 cents a bushel on the export of certain grades of wheat of which they have an excess supply, while Great Britain was taking steps to retaliate.

Lawrence School Entered By Thieves

Place Is Thoroughly Ransacked But Nothing Of Value Has Been Found Missing

Officer Clarence Campbell reported to police headquarters this morning that the Lawrence school had been entered during the night by persons evidently looking for money or other valuables. Detective John Young, Officer Charles Longstreth and Officer Campbell made the investigation today following the discovery, and found that entrance had been gained through a window that had been left unlocked. The place had been thoroughly ransacked for money or other valuables, which the thieves evidently thought might be in the place. Teachers' desks in the various rooms were found pried open. Nothing of value is missing as far as could be determined by the officers making the investigation.

Police Called To Make Investigation

Police headquarters was called early this morning from the Book & Lyle Mortuary on Neshannock avenue and informed that there was apparently some person in or about the place, who was there for no good purpose. Officer Dukes was detailed and after a thorough search was unable to locate any person in the district.

toons for Young Pa News Tuesday afternoon. It didn't take him more than a minute to draw a horse, sailor, soldier and a beautiful dame.

Five dollars will be awarded to the person sending in the name chosen.

In the Sunday school room, following in the service the pastor, Rev. Clifford S. Joshua, will meet those desirous of joining with the church Easter Sunday.

been any too friendly. The inclusion of a proposal to entirely abolish the present body as now constituted and his continued attacks on the body has permitted Pinchot to make the commission an issue which other candidates will be compelled to recognize when they issue their formal platforms.

Pinchot's proposal to abolish the coal and iron police is another issue which must be discussed. The record of the state board of pardons during the Pinchot regime and its attitude toward coal and iron policemen who were convicted in the courts is a chapter that will be well aired before May 20 but it cannot well be made into a platform plank.

Unemployment, an issue which cannot be ignored but which is admittedly one of the most difficult to solve, is another that no doubt worries the platform makers. Despite the present huge road and public building program which the state is financing, unemployment remains one of life's most vital issues in thousands of Pennsylvania homes. Pinchot has promised to "get work for the unemployed" but he never has and doubtless never will explain how that can be done. Politicians long have admitted that a man out of work is a man who will vote against the existing order whatever it may be. The man who promises an idle worker a job has an appeal that stands alone in prattle about the tariff and the "glory of the great commonwealth."

Practically all of the candidates have touched upon some of the issues which they believe paramount to the people of the state. How they will handle those issues when they set them down after the last revising yet remains to be seen.

STAR LORE

TWO KINDS OF VARIABLE STARS MECHANICALLY

By Arthur DeV. Carpenter
Mechanically considered there are two distinct kinds of variable stars—the kind that flares up with increased brilliancy such as Nova Aquilae (new star of the eagle) which is an extreme illustration, and double stars that appear variable because they in turn pass in front of each other as observed from our line of sight, and so eclipse each other at stated times. A double star separated by means of a spectroscopic lens is such a star. When one component passes in front of the other, its light is reduced for us since the radiation from the eclipsed member is cut off from our vision.

An oratorical contest in which young people from different churches of the presbytery took part marked the service of the afternoon, commencing at 1:30. "Law and Order" was the general theme.

As winner of a presbytery contest, he now becomes eligible to compete with other presbyterial winners at a place and time not announced as yet.

After delegates had been elected to represent Shenango Presbytery at the coming meeting of the synod, and with the completion of other presbyterial business, Moderator Davidson pronounced the meeting adjourned at 4 o'clock.

West Pittsburg Robber Captured

Pleads Guilty To Charges Made Against Him In Alderman Hamilton's Office

James Thomas, colored, entered the store of Daniel Alden in West Pittsburg Tuesday and stole three pairs of trousers, two pairs of overalls and a box of ladies hose.

A salesman who happened to be on the scene saw Thomas departing with his plunder and gave chase and finally captured him.

Thomas was brought to the local police station by his captors and turned over to H. Martin Lee, county detective and Constable A. S. Leslie. He had hidden the stockings but not Detective Lee and Constable Leslie where he had hidden them along the railroad tracks at West Pittsburg and he was returned there and that part of the loot recovered. He had the pants and overalls on him when captured.

He was taken before Alderman Walter T. Hamilton, where he was charged with larceny by County Detective Lee. He entered a plea of guilty and was held for the June term of court, when his case will be disposed of.

SENATE LEADERS WANT PRESIDENT TO WITHDRAW HIM

ident Hoover to withdraw Judge Parker's name. The denial was technically correct. They didn't ask Mr. Hoover to withdraw the nomination—they merely discussed it with him. And to not much end, either, for Mr. Hoover declared his intention of standing solidly behind his choice.

"Take it or leave it," was the Presidential attitude as expressed to senatorial callers.

The opposition to Judge Parker, negligible at first like that which followed the appointment of Charles Evans Hughes, has grown to surprising proportions.

It is based almost entirely upon the antagonism of the American Federation of Labor and the association for the advancement of colored people, the latter is probably the most serious, strangely enough.

Labor Hostile

Organized labor is hostile to Judge Parker because of his decision upholding the so-called "yellow dog" labor injunction in West Virginia. The negro societies are after him because of a statement attributed to him in a governorship campaign in North Carolina some years ago in which he was reported to have said he didn't want the governorship if it had to be through the agency of a single negro vote.

The negro organizations are making it exceedingly hot for those senators having large negro voting blocks and a number of them are up for re-election in November. In some states the negro vote is the balance of power between the two parties, and men like Senator Robinson (R) of Kentucky, Senator Goff (R) of West Virginia, and Senator McCulloch (R) of Ohio are acutely worried.

If the matter is forced to a vote before the June 1 adjournment the number of so-called "administration senators" who will vote against his confirmation will be surprising to those who don't know their senatorial politics.

Democrats Split

The Democrats are split on it, while hugely enjoying the discomfiture of their Republican rivals. The Progressives, of course, are going to vote against Parker on the Labor issue.

Meanwhile, matters are admittedly "in a mess" and no way has yet appeared that will give the White House its supreme court justice and at the same time save a number of senatorial skins in November.

Mrs. Ada R. Stone of Butler, was a visitor in the city Tuesday and attended the W. B. A. meetings.

NYE COMMITTEE TO PROBE COSTS OF WOMAN'S WIN

er on, if the committee thinks it justified, we may do so.

Mrs. McCormick, thus far, has taken no stand toward an investigation of her primary expenditures. She told inquiring newspapermen she did not feel called upon to make any statement, regarding her expenditures, until the committee had indicated its attitude toward the Illinois campaign. She said she did not desire to force herself into the limelight.

In Pennsylvania, it was an entirely different story. Both Grundy and Davis announced they would welcome an investigation by the senate committee. Grundy charged the Pennsylvania Railroad, through its president, W. W. Atterbury, was taking part in the state's politics, trying to help elect Davis, on the other hand, Davis charged Grundy's Pennsylvania manufacturers association was raising large campaign fund, to aid their associate in his fight for the senatorship.

Federation Meeting Attracts Large Crowd

The Lawrence County Federation of Women's Clubs held another meeting of marked interest in the parlors of the Y. W. C. A. Tuesday, April 15, with a splendid attendance. Mrs. Charles Greer, president, presided, and opened the meeting with the Lord's Prayer. Mrs. W. H. Clapie of the Service Star Legion led in the salute to the flag. The Board meeting, which took place at 1 o'clock proved a period of important discussion on various matters and reports at this time were heard of the work being done. Reports are as follows:

Mrs. W. H. Clapie spoke on "Poppy Day" with the sale of poppies being endorsed by the Federation. Garden Club week will be observed from April 17-24 with Forest Week following on April 24 to 30th. Plans for Health Week were dealt with which will be in May and much enthusiasm is being shown as this event will be one of the most important civic undertakings of the city. The Garden Club will ask to plant shrubbery and many varieties of plants in the West Side Park, with the different clubs participating. A report from the Neighborhood House was heard, when the Federation was asked to sponsor the sending of children to their summer camp, July 21 to 28.

In the month of June, the Art Loan Exhibit will be held, sponsored by the Art Club and the Fine Arts Department. The Garden Club will also sponsor a "Better Lawn" contest. One of the main plans discussed was the short programs to be given at the schools when the Treasure Chest will be opened with a similar program being presented at the May meeting.

Speak On Trees. Two experts on Forestry were introduced by Mrs. S. D. Pearson, who were Louis Round and R. J. Preston, of the P. and O. Splendid talks were heard on the planting of trees and steps are being taken to promote the growth of more trees along the highways. Much valuable information on this problem was given by Mr. Round and Mr. Preston holding the interest of those present.

The annual meeting of the Federation will be held in May with the State officers as guests. A dinner will be given in the Castleton with the hospitality committee in charge. The music program will be in charge of the New Wilmington Music Club, with Mrs. H. L. Dague as chairman of the program. The past and present presidents will be looked after by the Current Events clubs. The section of officers complete reports from the different clubs will be heard.

Nomination of officers was held with Mrs. W. A. Taylor, Mrs. B. J. Love and Mrs. T. C. Roney tellers. At this time Mrs. W. A. Taylor gave her resignation as chairman of the legislative committee, which was accepted.

Mrs. Harry Marshall read a report of the Home in which she introduced Mrs. F. S. Brennen, who gave an account of the picture entitled "Welfare Road" to be held in the future, thus bringing to a close the board meeting.

Music Interests. The program arranged by Mrs. Harry Marshall, Sr., of the Home Department and Mrs. Frederick Smith of the Welfare Department, took charge. The first number was two vocal solos by Mrs. William J. Caldwell entitled "When Blossoms Come" by Frank Gray and "An Open Secret" by Whittman. She was accompanied by Mrs. Kathryn Nessler Allen at the piano.

Mrs. Frances Foulke Russell of New Wilmington gave a splendid talk on the "standards of a Home." She used the word "Gracious" and taking another word from each letter of this, which were very appropriate, explained each in detail. She brought out the spirit and attitude that should be taken by everyone, coming reverence, ambition, idealism, obedience, charity, usefulness, sincerity and sympathy, all which lead to a happy home life. Mrs. Russell explained her point of view in an interesting manner, using a chart she made for this occasion. She blended humor and wit in her talk, as well as giving examples that she had experienced in her life. Her talk proved one worthy of mention, and would, without a doubt be appreciated by the many, could they who did not have the privilege of hearing her have the opportunity. Another object which she brought about was the "Interest of the Parents Shown in Their Children," and

MAKE A WILL

AMONG educational campaigns being conducted under various auspices is one giving every man and every woman a reminder of the duty of making a will and of appointing competent and responsible executors. The importance of this should be plain, yet thousands die yearly without leaving wills. Under the circumstance, their property is disposed of according to state laws, which cannot undertake to deal with the families in accordance with individual requirements. Frequently injustice results, with much suffering entailed. This emphasizes the duty of making a will. Men and women should realize that only in this way can their estates be distributed as they would wish.

The chief trouble, however, is simply neglect. Some who realize their duty to have their wills drawn keep putting off the discharge of it to "another time." But a fatal accident or a sudden illness affecting their minds and rendering them mentally incompetent to the end may occur and, obviously, make it impossible to repair the neglect. While the normal expectation of those in their prime is to live "to three score and ten" or more, it is only common sense and common prudence to recognize the uncertainty of life.

Although the drawing of a will naturally takes into consideration the certainty of the coming of death some time to the testator, it should constantly be kept uppermost that the whole purpose of the instrument is the service of life; the care of the "dear ones" of the decedent who remain behind or the cause of humanity in general.

The drawing of a will ought to be recognized as a thing not to be "put off."

WHEN ARE "ANTIQUES" REAL?

The sale of antiques, genuine or spurious, has become such a thriving industry, that it is difficult to believe any legislation can greatly affect it. The old just about the enormous cargo the Mayflower must have brought is still timely. There are people who believe that old New England farm houses are stuffed full of genuine bargains of ancestral derivation. Caveat emptor. But Senator Wagner of New York has introduced a bill to prohibit the sale or shipment in interstate commerce of any article described as an antique if it is less than a century old.

Probably the enforcement of such a law would result in a certain number of indictments. But the conflict of evidence would make convictions far from easy. The age of inanimate objects is sometimes more a matter of opinion than of proof. Even experts are frequently deceived. Besides, just what is an antique? Is the hundred-year limit a conclusive test? The question of fraud might also be hard to determine. An antique may become such by tradition, regardless of fact. Paintings, books and such things may carry their credentials with them. But an old desk or chair might have been made eighty years ago and look twice its age.

LESSONS OF LIFE

Every person should go to the cemetery at least twice in life. Once at the end of life, and first early in life to reflect on the brevity of life and the insufficiency of worldly goods. There is no place like a quiet churchyard for meditation and there is room in every life for more serious thought. The tombstones hold a moral for all living. There is inscribed the human virtues, but among the inscriptions there is no record of estates left behind, fortunes made and spent and worldly fame attained. The magnitude and sculpture of the stone or the vault alone remain to remind the world of "the boast of heraldry and the pomp of power."

Why should human beings worry and struggle through life's fleet span in pursuit of wealth, fame, luxuries, vanities and all those other evanescent things we choose to call riches? The poor are distressed by too little money, the moderately wealthy by the thought that others possess more wealth than they, and the rich by too much money.

The Garden of Paradise was paradise only so long as Adam and Eve entertained no thought of worldly things. There were no pestering bank accounts, troublesome servants, expensive automobiles, business worries and social and fashion detractions in Paradise.

Few people have learned the secret of living well. Most of us measure contentment in terms of dollars and social position. The number is negligible which views life as a golden opportunity to work and think and be joyful.

ECONOMISTS DISCUSS FALLING PRICES

The Bureau of Agricultural Economics at Washington found a variety of opinion among experts on the causes of falling commodity prices and their probable effects. Vice President Roberts of the National City Bank of New York lays the trouble to overproduction, resulting from labor-saving machinery like tractors. Professor Irving Fisher of Yale pays little attention to causes of the present situation in discussing the future. He fears an era of falling prices like that of 1879 to 1897, if the supply of monetary gold declines relative to monetary demand for gold. Dr. Anderson of the Chase National Bank in New York declares the "gold panic" arrived last October in the stock market crash; it is not a thing of the future.

Perhaps these opinions are not so divergent as first appears. There are possibilities of reconciling them. But whether taken collectively or separately, they are fundamentally economic in nature, with a human factor that can scarcely be reached by mere congressional enactment. We cannot pass a law to discourage the use of machinery, nor matter what the effect on the surplus may be. We cannot supply gold by fiat. Artificial as the situation has been, it could no more be touched by legislation than short skirts and bobbed hair can be regulated by statute. Like changing fashions, farm relief will come, not when Washington decrees it, but when the farmer himself brings it about.

Meanwhile a sounder basis is predicted for the world after the building trade is financed primarily by investors' savings instead of by bond issues, and when consumer demand comes more largely from normal sources of income.—Philadelphia Inquirer.

JUST A NIP

A certain clergyman, noted for his activities as a temperance advocate, is at present the laughing-stock of his village. The Sunday School children were singing "Little drops of water, little grains of sand."

"Come now," said the clergyman, "Try it again. Now then! 'Little drops of water—and for Heaven's sake put some spirit into it.'"

Women May Preach.
Colored Race Diminishing.
Why So Many Suicides?
U. S. Army Up 30,000 Feet.

By ARTHUR G. BRISBANE
(Copyright, 1930, King Features Synd., Inc.)

The Presbytery of New York voted Monday, 51 to 29, admitting women to Presbyterian pulpits. Reverend ladies will now proceed to prove that Samuel Johnson was wrong when he said a woman preaching was like a dog standing on its hind legs. It is not that she does it well, but you wonder that she does it at all.

Good preaching depends on sincerity, and that is woman's specialty.

Uncle Sam's census shows the colored population of the United States diminishing. The percentage of Negro population, in this census, will be the lowest on record, and that percentage now is only half what it was in 1790.

But this need not discourage Americans of African descent. If after we die we return to earth to continue working here as many believe, the means a large percentage of colored people must come back in white bodies, with a better chance, in our prejudiced white civilization.

Mayakovsky, called Russia's greatest poet, committed suicide Monday in Moscow.

Thousands of miles away, in New York, a rich young Harvard student and a prosperous woman more than 80 years old, killed themselves.

In London, the Duchess of Leinster is sent to prison for trying to kill herself.

Nobody knows how many thousands of others, on the same day, left the world prematurely and violently.

Life is short enough, hope is never gone, duty is not fully discharged, unless death takes us.

And everybody appearing in the next world will feel foolish if obliged to say: "I killed myself," when asked: "How did you come here?"

London forecasts the "doom of battleships."

They were doomed long ago, when Gen. Mitchell, best flying officer in our Army, dismissed for telling too much truth, proved that two men in a $45,000 airship can sink a $500,000 battleship with a 1,000-man crew.

Last Saturday in California under the direction of Brig. Gen. Gillmore, 19 planes of the United States Army flew in perfect formation to an altitude of 30,000 feet, almost five miles up, with the temperature 40 degrees below zero.

The most important thing about that wonderful achievement is this: Army officers, those that would minimize the importance of the airplane to uphold old-fashioned methods, admit that flying is such a short cut it would be utterly impossible for any anti-aircraft artillery to injure the flying machines.

It is time for the great engineering ability of the United States, led by the able engineer in the White House, to concentrate on airplane and submarines, realizing that battleships and other floating ships have gone to join the hansom cab and dodo.

W. K. Whitfield wants everybody to know that the Mediterranean fly has disappeared from Florida; only two samples of the larvae found in the entire state since last August. Mr. Whitfield represents 70,000 acres of Florida citrus fruit.

W. J. Howey, representing 60,000 citrus fruit acres in Lake County, Fla., says the fly has vanished. Anyhow it would amount to much. They have had it in Spain for nearly a century, yet today Spain produces 30,000,000 boxes of oranges against Florida's 9,000,000 to 12,000,000 boxes.

Good news from one part of the country is good news for all of the country.

The Methodist Episcopal Church's Board of Temperance and Public Morals announces:

"There is only one senator remaining in the Senate who voted against the Eighteenth Amendment, while 22 who voted favorably still occupy their seats."

Sincere prohibitionists are absolutely in earnest. They do not forgive politicians that vote against them and make them realize it.

Politicians know this, hence the considerable number that are dry outside, and wet inside.

Sir Thomas Lipton launches his sailing yacht, Shamrock No. Five, to take the cup from America, if he can. A bottle of champagne starts Shamrock V on her way.

Simultaneously three Americans, Vanderbilt, Aldrich and Astor, launch the cold water boat "Enterprise," one of four American boats that will defend the title.

Sailing races are now as unimportant as greyhound races. Excessive depth of center-boards, and reliance on them to offset heavy sail area make the hull design unimportant.

The interesting fact is that Britons, building sailing boats for centuries, cannot compete with modern American boat builders. Youthful inventive genius is better than aged experience.

HOW ABOUT YOU? A minister who has a great gift for swaying people once said that every time he preached a sermon some one came to him and told him that he knew a person that the sermon fitted exactly, but that no one had ever told him that the sermon had taught himself a needed lesson. The moral which the reverend gentleman drew from this was that the vast majority of people, in listening to a sermon or any other form of preaching, have in mind only the faults and foibles of some one else, with never a thought for their own shortcomings.

It is a curious fact that we all like to think of ourselves as pretty near to perfection, and to concentrate on the errors of those about us, though our own faults may be twice as glaring as those of others. The woman whose children are a terror to the rest of the neighborhood is the first to notice any disobedience on the part of another child, and to tell the other mother how to correct it. The man who is himself a failure can always account for his friend's lack of progress. The concern which is losing money steadily knows just why someone else has gone into involuntary bankruptcy.

The next time you read an article of any kind on human conduct, whether it be on how to become a millionaire or how not to treat your wife, observe your own reaction to it. Do you take it all to heart, or do you have in mind some other person who you think ought to read it? The chances are that your concern will be all for the other person's mistakes. Probably it would pay us all to be a little more introspective.

THE GOOD LIFE Oh, whether you dwell in a cottage or a castle on top of a hill, There are hunger and thirst for the spirit that are certain to follow you still. There is pain that you can't get away from, and loss that you'll have to endure. For life does out anguish and heart-aches which money and fame cannot cure.

Oh, whether you're master or toiler, or rich man or poor 'tis the same. You'll never know joy if you're friendless; you'll never be happy in shame. Food hunger seems trifling compared with the hunger of men for respect. For there's nothing that fortune can offer to pay for the name that is wrecked.

Oh, the good life is builded on courage and honor and kindness and cheer. It gathers its friends where it finds them and clings to them year after year. You can't stir up a social revolution in a land where $18.65 a month will buy a car as well as the rich neighbors.

Awful thought. Suppose the Navy, in a real war, should absently follow its practice maneuvers and get locked to scare Congress.

Discussing both sides of the case, the CHARLESTON EVENING POST (Ind. Dem.) argues: "Mr. Simmons supported a Republican because his Democratic opponent was wet. Why should not Mr. Raskob support one because his opponent is dry? It is conceivable that Mr. Raskob sets as much store by wetness as a political philosophy as Senator Simmons sets by dryness in like significance."

The contention that the Raskob contribution was not a party matter but purely personal is voiced by the ANN ARBOR DAILY NEWS (Ind.) and the HARTFORD TIMES (Ind. Dem.). The CHATTANOOGA TIMES (Ind. Dem.) charges that Joseph Daniels, "as a contributor to the Anti-Saloon League, even helped to elect Herbert Hoover while, at the same time, he was supporting Al Smith, nominally at least." The LITTON ROCK ARKANSAS DEMOCRAT (Dem.) calls the demand upon Mr. Raskob "ridiculous."

Contributions for wet propaganda purposes are held by the CHARLESTON DAILY MAIL (Ind. Rep.) as of such a nature that there is no harm in them. The Mail adds: "More than that, there is no harm in contributing money for the opposite purpose. The harm would be in the way the money was used, not in the fact that it was used. Propaganda, pro and con, is legitimate, and as essential part of liberty and free speech." The MANCHESTER UNION (Ind. Rep.) concludes that "as the critics of Mr. Raskob betray no signs of desire to lessen their attacks upon him, the prospects are highly unfavorable for an early arrival of a period of harmony."

"It sometimes happens," suggests the RICHMOND NEWS LEADER (Ind. Dem.), "that what a man does in his private capacity limits his usefulness in business or destroys it altogether. Doubtless that very point will be urged before the Democratic national committee. When it is, two things will happen: First, the growing wet sentiment of the United States will make many Democratic leaders more determined than ever to retain Raskob as chairman of the national committee; and, secondly, those who support Raskob and those who think he should retire as chairman will be very slow to submit to the dictation of Anti-Saloon league leaders. The reason above all that makes Democrats hesitate to ask for Raskob's resignation is that the enemies of the Raskob party are so anxious to have him put out."

In opposition to this stand is that of the RALEIGH NEWS AND OBSERVER (Dem.) which declares: "The business of a national chairman is to stand on the platform of his party, to use all diligence to elect candidates for his party. When he contributes money to elect 'wet' candidates who are Republicans, he thereby shows that he ought to resign as national chairman and let some man be chosen who neither gives aid nor comfort nor money to help elect any Republicans to congress."

The CHARLOTTE OBSERVER (Ind. Dem.) analyzes the opposition to the national chairman. "The pressure to the national chairman from a position that has embarrassed the party does not come so much from the leaders as from the people 'back home.' There is one fact, however, that may be accepted as one of considerable unanimity, and that is, that the desire of the Democrats who have the welfare of their party at heart to see Raskob retired, while it may be somewhat more silent, is not a whit less than the desire on the part of the Republicans to get rid of Raskob." The ASHEVILLE TIMES (Ind. Dem.) holds that "neither Mr. Raskob nor any other chairman of the Democratic national committee should take part in the campaign against prohibition. If Mr. Raskob's convictions lead him to this course, he should resign as chairman." The SPOKANE SPOKESMAN-REVIEW (Rep.) points out that in 1928 "the Democratic national convention was overruled by its candidate and by Chairman Raskob" and that the Association Against the Prohibition Amendment, of which Mr. Raskob is a director, had greater influence with him and with Governor Smith than was exerted by the national convention. "The NEWARK EVENING NEWS (Ind.) believes that 'leadership must be found nearer the center of the party that can draw the extremes together.'"

"There is some reason," states the SPRINGFIELD UNION (Rep.), "to assume that Senator Simmons is speaking not merely for himself and the North Carolina Democrats but also for the anti-Smith and anti-Raskob elements throughout the south, for the latter's wet contributions are merely the first step in a movement of the southern Democrats to try to take over the party management in the 1932 campaign."

Party's Fight Over Raskob Wakes Wet And Dry Conflict

Chief Issue As To Whether He Should Contribute To Funds Of Wet Candidates Mingled With Parallel Charges Involving Dry League

Aside from plainly stated opposition to Chairman John J. Raskob of the Democratic National committee on the part of those who disapproved of his selection for leadership in the last campaign, the fight within the party has brought few suggestions as to the future. In reply to charges that his contributions to the anti-prohibition organization would aid in electing some Republicans, it is charged that his enemies, through support of the Anti-Saloon League, have been aiding still other Republicans.

"Those who thought he was not the proper man to be chairman of the Democratic National committee, because of his wet views," says the LYNCHBURG NEWS (Ind.), "think so now that he has appeared before the senate committee investigating lobbying. Those who thought he should remain, either because of his wet views, or because of the attempted dictation of the party by those who have been seeking his scalp, think so now. The argument for and against Raskob is unchanged."

The issue appears to the KANSAS CITY STAR (Ind.) as one which, now that the party's committee chairman has been revealed as a heavy contributor to the wet cause, is certain to give increased trouble in dry territory. "The Star, however, adds: 'In name, it would be settled through such a simple expedient as the voluntary or involuntary removal of the national chairman. But there would remain the deeper question as to how the militantly wet and militantly dry elements of a party could be reconciled. That party will keep the organization leaders busy up to and including the next national campaign.'"

HARRISBURG, April 16.—"The rabbit playing in the road in front of your car is enjoying the age old thrill of a spring time night. Only a coward kills needlessly. Give it a chance."

That was the appeal made today by John J. Slaughterback, executive secretary of the Game Commission, to autoists who would rather kill a rabbit than slacken speed.

Slaughterback pointed out that improved roads, especially on moonlight nights have a great attraction for rabbits by autoists is making it almost possible for the Game Commission to keep sections adjacent to good roads stocked with the harmless little animals.

The number of other animals killed needlessly by speeding cars in not so large but they also pay a needless toll, commission officials believe.

Skunks, while not so plentiful as rabbits, also are slow to yield the right of way to an oncoming car. When an autoist, not well up on his wood lore, mistakes one of them for a rabbit, game officials say nature helps to even the score for the rabbits that have no means of defense.

The chaplain, Rev. James Shera Montgomery, D. D., offered the following prayer:

Infinitely Holy Father, we ask Thee to maintain Thy covenant with us, that by Thy gentleness and sweet attractions we may be drawn more and more to Thee. Thou art not only a God of wisdom and a God of might, for we discern Thee in the wonders of our deepest loves, in the beauty and glory of Thy all-abounding mercy and goodness. Over against every yearning, over against every temptation, over against every fear, over against every affliction is Thy beloved Son, meeting every want and supplying every need. May the memory of Him who took little children in His arms and put His holy hands upon their heads and blessed them, direct and encourage us until the latest year of our earthly lives. Lists Causes Of Fires In Wood

Chief Forest Fire Warden Warns Against Blazes In Woods

HARRISBURG, April 16.—Carelessness on the part of transients in the wooded areas of the commonwealth is responsible for a large number of forest fires, according to a statement issued to-day by George H. Wirt, chief forest fire warden of Pennsylvania, in discussing reasons for the unusual increase in forest fires this spring.

Reports received daily on spring fires attributed to an unusually large number of fires to individuals passing through and near the forests, principally along the highways and mountain roads. Fully 60 per cent of the fires, it is indicated, are caused by transients who thoughtlessly toss away lighted matches or are careless in discarding cigarette and cigar stubs or tobacco from their pipes.

Appealing to the general public to be cautious with fire in the woods, the chief forest fire warden urged all travelers in the open to help protect our forested areas and to induce others to be equally careful in retaining the beauties of nature.

An apparently insignificant spark easily starts a fire that soon reaches destructive proportions, Wirt said. This is particularly true at this season, following a deficiency of rainfall during the last several months, now accompanied with the high climbing sun and a day or so of windy weather, when dead leaves and grass of the past year rapidly become inflammable. Even after a good rain the loose leaves dry out the under layer of decayed vegetable matter and humus so that years of valuable nourishment for the trees is quickly consumed.

While larger trees may appear to be only slightly hurt by fire, the effect upon the trunks by hours of intense heat may result in future decay by opening the bark to insect and fungus damage. The resinous bark and needles of small conifers like pine and hemlock are utterly destroyed by fires running swiftly through them.

The destructive character of forest fires is not limited to tree and soil injury. The soft juicy leaf and flower buds of delicate spring plants like hepatica and blood root are charred and prevented from blooming for the season, with consequent loss in reproduction. If the blaze is very hot and there is so much dry fuel that the flames sweep high before strong winds, flowering shrubs like azalea and laurel share in the damage that leaves many acres with nothing but charred stems.

Pillows Fail To Meet State Tests

HARRISBURG, April 16.—Do you know your feathers? Many persons do not, and that is why the bureau of bedding and upholstery, Pennsylvania Department of Labor and Industry, is kept busy answering questions and making tests, all tending to bring the standards of manufactured bedding up to legal requirements.

The manager of a prominent New York City Hotel recently sent to M. P. Frederick, director of the State bureau of bedding and upholstery, a bed pillow which had been purchased as high quality down, asking for an analysis of the contents. The analysis showed 35 per cent. goose feathers (new), white but stained yellow; 25 per cent. duck feathers (new); 25 per cent. chicken feathers (new); 15 per cent. second-hand feathers (goose and duck); faint trace of down included in the 35 per cent. of goose feathers.

General Electric And Radio Corporation To Have Working Agreement

NEW YORK, April 16.—The General Electric corporation and the Westinghouse Electric and Manufacturing company will obtain working control of the Radio Corporation of America, it was reported today in well-informed financial quarters.

To go through with the deal, the Radio corporation will be increased to 13,000,000 shares. It is expected to eventually make arrangements for the retirement of the present preferred stock of the company, although this phase of the plan is not expected to come up for immediate attention.

Additional Room For School Building

NEW WILMINGTON, Pa., April 16.—At their regular monthly meeting held in the school house on Monday evening, definite steps were taken by the board for building an addition to the present structure used as the school.

The addition will be a four room addition on the west side of the present structure and will be used for high school purposes, thus making eight rooms in the high school instead of four.

One room will be devoted to the commercial classes and typewriters will be placed in it. Since the addition of this course last year, the classes have been cramped for room and this will enable the work to be pursued with greater ease.

The board voted to turn the plans of State Architect Castle over to Klepper and Klepper of Sharon for approval and these architects will prepare plans for the new building after those presented by the state are correct.

Physicians Are Defied By Miracle Man

By ALFRED TYRNAUER
International News Service Staff Correspondent

VIENNA, April 16.—A "miracle man," who has no license to practice his art, but who nevertheless enjoys a huge following, is waging war on established medical practice and after a battle raging all over the European press is victoriously defying all medical celebrities, university professors and a Nobel prize winner.

The "miracle man," who styles himself "wonder doctor," is Herr Valentin Zeileis and he makes his headquarters in a medieval castle near this city.

Herr Zeileis calls his castle the "Sanatorium for Miraculous Cures" and conservative estimates place the number of sick who visit it daily at 3,500. As a result of his success, Zeileis has become a millionaire and the little town surrounding his castle has prospered amazingly.

A few weeks ago when Zeileis decided to open branch offices of his sanatorium in Vienna, Berlin and other cities a protest action was started against him by the famous Professor Lazarus in Berlin and Professor Wagner Jauregg of Vienna, Nobel prize winner.

Under the guidance of these two men various chambers of medicine throughout Europe denounced Zeileis as a dangerous quack and his treatment as a pernicious fraud.

Zeileis immediately answered this attack by bringing a series of actions against the "slandering," emphasizing the fact that although he is unqualified, his son and partner, Fritz Zeileis, is a licensed doctor of medicine. Moreover, he pointed out, he had always been careful enough to employ only qualified physicians as his assistants.

The next move of his opponents was to demand that the Austrian government prohibit the practice of the "Zeileis quackery" and close the "Sanatorium for miraculous cures."

Zeileis' answer was a decisive one. He declared that should the government attempt to undertake anything against his laboratories, he would withdraw his investments in Austria, open a sanatorium in another country, ruin the town in which his castle was located and impair Austrian trade.

Seeks Senate Seat

Mrs. E. L. McKee
Mrs. E. L. McKee, of Sylva, N. C., prominent in southern social and political circles, is the first woman to seek a seat in the state senate in the Tar Heel state. She has announced her candidacy on the Democratic ticket.

balance. His threat was illustrated by statistics, which revealed that one-fourth of the entire tourist traffic in Austria last year visited his little town and that the total number of patients treated by him at one time or another was close to 5,000,000.

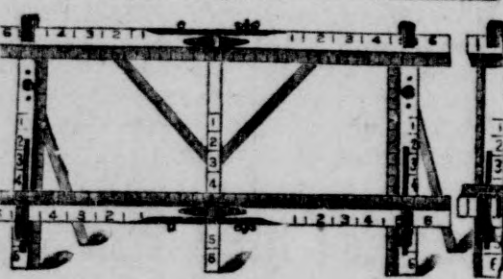

In addition, the "wonder doctor" turned the army of his faithful patients against the authorities. A group of Vienna doctors, who visited the sanatorium, were attacked and driven away by thousands of men and women, including invalids, epileptics, tuberculars and other wrecked worshippers at Zeileis' shrine.

Following this outburst of popular sentiment, the Austrian government announced that although it is siding with the learned professors the matter of Zeileis' practice should be settled by the authorities of the town in which his castle is located. As a consequence Zeileis continues his practice undisturbed, as the local authorities have no desire to take action against the man who has brought prosperity to their community.

The "therapy" of Zeileis, as well as his "diagnostic method" is rather uniform. Every patient is examined by a glass rod near his body. Zeileis claims that this "miracle rod" contains a radio active gas which changes its color according to the condition of the organism under it.

The treatment is the same in all cases. The patient is placed into an electric apparatus sending a high frequency current with a voltage of 180,000 to 600,000 through the body. The examination takes about two seconds, the treatment two to four seconds. The fees for the treatment are also uniform. 3 Austrian schillings or about 40 cents for each. Zeileis prescribes usually 3 treatments a day, to be repeated for several weeks.

Scientist To Study Fish Life 1-4 Mile Beneath Ocean's Surface

(International News Service)
NEW YORK, April 16.—With the aid of a sphere-shaped diving cell, William Beebe, author, scientist and director of the New York Zoological society's department of tropical research, plans to plunge a quarter of a mile below the sea surface at Nonesuch island in Bermuda, where there is no light other than the cold light of illuminated fish.

Beebe made known his hazardous plans prior to sailing from New York for Bermuda recently on the steamer Fort St. George.

The sphere-shaped cell in which the dive will be made was described by Beebe as an all-metal affair containing a series of large windows made from fused quartz glass through which the scientist and his associates hope to view the extraordinary marine life that exists a quarter of a mile beneath the surface.

Beebe's expedition this year is designed to carry on the work that was started at Nonesuch island in 1929,

(International News Service)
DARMSTADT, Germany, April 16.—Johann Nehring, noted aeronautical engineer and pilot, holder of numerous world's records in motorless airplane flight, was killed today when his motorless airplane crashed during the course of his daily altitude flight for meteorological observation.

Dr. Steinhäuser, accompanying Nehring as observer, jumped with his parachute and was uninjured. Nehring, one of the most daring and skillful of the young German pilots, had been a leader in motorless airplane designing and meteorological research.

His death marks the passing of the second outstanding pioneer of motorless flight, Ferdinand Schütz, another world record holder having crashed to his death in a motor plane accident several months ago.

CHART GIVES RESULTS OF DISARMAMENT CONFERENCE

New naval tonnage figures show that Great Britain and the United States will reduce their present navies somewhat, while Japan will be permitted a slight increase in total tonnage under the three-power treaty to be signed at London, the result of the naval conference. The United States and Great Britain will have equality, the British tonnage being somewhat higher because of a large cruiser advantage given the United States.

Bo Broadway by JOSEPH VAN RAALTE

By Central Press

NEW YORK, April 16.—Doc Jesse Holmes, who babbles about philosophy at Swatmore College, breezed into town the other day and gave a lecture at Columbia. Among other things he urged scrapping the pastoral definition of the Lord contained in the psalmist's verse "The Lord is my shepherd." He said that sort of thing is meaningless today because the average city dweller cannot be expected to know anything about sheep. As a substitute he suggested, to express this same reverence and faith:

"The Lord is my automobile's low gear to help me in climbing hard hills."

"The Lord is my antiseptic in times of dangerous epidemics."

Let us hope the idea never takes hold. You can't mix motors with Messiah. Angels and asperin do not coalesce.

And if the good Doc thinks New York is nothing about sheep let him try the subway for a week and see his opinion.

"When you see Mr. Coleman later, tell him he didn't go back far enough!"

He wanted to talk to the chap who drank champagne out of a milk can. Where is he?"

And when Hughie appeared Lipton handed him an enameled shamrock stick pin with a pearl in the center.

"That's in exchange for the condensed milk container you gave me yesterday," he explained.

They're both great men—Hughie and Sir Thomas.

BEAVE HO!
In a few more weeks New York is going to go mad about yachting. Sir Thomas is putting the finishing touches to his latest Shamrock challenge. And although the races will be held this time off Newport, where there's more sea room and less liability of excursion boat interference, Manhattan is getting its yachting flannels out of camp for balls and practicing up on its "starboard" and "larboard" vocabulary.

HEEDING HOOVER.
The newspapers have already made arrangements for an army of yachting experts to take possession of Newport. Some of them are hiring five, six and seven room suites. Miles of special telegraph and telephone wires are being installed in the correspondence quarters. The army of nautical men is being augmented by a corps of society experts.

The final races, early in September, which will be preceded by countless trial contests, are responsible for what will be the greatest season in Newport's history.

Instead of rushing around Russia, walking Spanish in Spain and roaming in distant Rome this summer, the Bradstreet Breed will hie them to Rhode Island.

Alpha Gamma Delta Announces 10 Pledges

NEW WILMINGTON, Pa., April 16. —Miss Mary Lou Brabham, Butler, Pa., president of Alpha Gamma Delta sorority at Westminster college, announced yesterday that 10 girls had been added to the chapter at the conclusion of the bidding. The names of these pledges were omitted from the general report of students pledged which appeared Monday.

The Alpha Gams tied with Chi Omega for the highest number of girls pledged. Those honored were: Jeanette Albracht, Erie; Naomi Allen, Pittsburgh; Helen Bareman, Pittsburgh; Helen Blaha, New Castle; Clara Jane Davis, Carnegie; Allene Miller, New Kensington; Gail Paxton, Houston; Dorothy Prosser, Carnegie; Margaret Walker, Coraopolis; and Helen Weingartner, New Castle.

London women are refusing to wear some of the Paris spring styles.

Library Receives Canal Relic Group

HARRISBURG, April 16. — Among recent acquisitions to the State Library and Museum are a number of valuable books, papers, pamphlets, and models of boats descriptive of the old canal days, the gift of Victoria Dougherty estate, of Huntingdon county, through Miss Annie L. Leddy of Washington, D. C.

This collection includes the plans for an ideal city, a working plan for a narrow gauge railroad, model of trucks, etc., made by the late John Dougherty. A book, written by him on "Early Transportation in Pennsylvania Section Boats," published in 1835 also is included. Several manuscript books are interesting, and of a period which is the most difficult to collect representative material in Pennsylvania history, officials said.

LAST MINUTE EASTER SUGGESTIONS

Did you expect to go away for Easter and find at the last minute that you will be at home and entertaining? Or perhaps you have been unable to get out to buy new decorations for the children's breakfast. Every resourceful housewife has an emergency supply of table trimmings, as she has of foods, that may be called on at just such times. A bunch of flowers or a plant, as pictured, always adds a delightful note to the table for any meal, and so do candles. Around the bowl of flowers you might put some little chickens or rabbits, or make little nests of cut paper or cotton batting with candy eggs in them. This simple decoration will be equally appropriate for breakfast, luncheon or Sunday supper.

OH, THESE WOMEN!

By LEOLA ALLARD

It takes a very smart woman to handle a traveling man—husband. I think perhaps he is the most difficult of all the breed. A woman has to have faith that passeth understanding, great love and the patience of Job.

I have a letter from a lady in Detroit who says she was amused at what I wrote about traveling men. "I have one too," sez the lady. "He takes work so seriously that when orders come from the plant to go forth and do his darndest, nothing can hold him from his duties."

"I gave birth to a baby last month and on the day it came into the world he rushed to the far ends of the earth on business. Several days later, business secured, he came home to rest up."

(What of that? Some of you women should have men who loaf all day and keep worrying about bills. It's great thing to have a baby, but don't get the idea that it's easy to support the baby and the mother and the brothers and sisters and keep them happy. Evidently it isn't only difficult, it's often impossible.)

"Said baby decided to have measles last week. Business again. Husband rushed away and ME stayed up every day and every night and pulled the darling back to earth."

"Well, didn't you love doing it? Isn't it yours and don't you love it better than anything on earth? Men are in the way mostly in such instances, and perhaps the fact that they know they are clumsy is one reason they fly away."

"Friend husband called me from the east to see how baby was and tell me how much he loved me. I hung up on him."

(I notice the women who write that their husbands always wipe the dishes and sit up with the children and scrub the kitchen floor are always flat broke. Maybe it would be better if they would rush business a little and let the family wipe the dishes. What do you think? After all that is the wife's business and earning money is the man's part.)

"Now that I hung up on him he is abused. What is your opinion of ME?"

Lady, he is misunderstood. You ARE dead wrong. He WAS mistreated. What do you want him to do, neglect business and get tired? What if he had gone to war just before your baby was born and you didn't see him for two years?

You are going to lose him if you don't watch out. A man who knows he is doing his duty, who takes the trouble to call and say he loves you and gets the phone slammed in his ear will find someone who won't hang up on him. Better stop, look and listen my dear.

When he is home and she suggests a show, he's seen it in New York. If she wants to see it she goes alone. Well, that IS selfish and I don't blame you for flaring up Helena. Tell him he must take you places and see that he does it.

But they are all selfish. Don't try to find one without fault. It's merely a question of whether or not your happiness is worth the effort of overlooking his faults. You have them too you know. If you would flatter him and not slam up phones, he might take you oftener. Take inventory, Helena.

The Way OF THE World

By GROVE PATTERSON

IT'S WORTH WHILE

Most of us from time to time are aware of what might be called a "sense of futility." We wonder if the struggle to be somebody and to get somewhere is worth while. We wonder if any human effort, no matter how arduous or enthusiastically entered into, or who seemingly fine, is really worth all it costs in sacrifice, patience, and persistence. We are inclined to look at ourselves very closely, and to wonder whether the course we are trying to pursue, the program we have set up, is worth the effort. Is the game worth the candle? There are so few things that matter very much. Sometimes we wonder if anything matters.

But if we look back on the long road of history we see that the men and women who have made this earth a livable place, who have built the structure of civilization, are men and women who have been everlastingly convinced that something is worth while, some things are worth doing, no matter what the cruel cost of the effort.

George Washington, rich and comfortable, had more to lose than any other man in the colonies when he gave up a life of ease and started to walk toward the gallows. For if the Revolution, with such a flimsy chance had not been a success, Washington would have been hanged.

All the noble achievements in history are but the record of man's faith that there are a few things worth doing at any cost, a few things greater than life or death.

NOT HOW LONG BUT HOW MUCH

Give me five years and the United States will have a rubber crop from golden rod. So says Wizard Edison. One learns that Edison, looking in on his laboratory in Florida now and then, isn't doing much active work. One also learns that when he drops in and talks to his staff he gives out enough ideas to keep his assistants busy for a week.

Never boast of how many hours you spend in your office. What do you do when you are there? What do you keep your assistants doing? Two men may look and dress alike. But one may be able to do more in two hours than the other can do in two days.

The Parent Problem

by GARRY C. MYERS, Ph.D.

Try To Win Confidence Of Children

"Should the parent of a teen age child (adolescent) sit up at night until he or she comes home?" Out of about a hundred answers from many cities, "yes" and "no" appeared about fifty-fifty. Among the replies were, "Absolutely, yes," "Most certainly," "Yes, but not let him know it to be their only reason," "Go to bed and stay awake until they come in," "Yes, but not as if waiting,"

"Even though I am married and have a baby, my mother won't go to bed until I or my husband comes home," "No, unless parent is a very strong character," "No, but wake up and greet the child and talk of her interests," "No, however, I think the parent who can awaken when the child comes home and chat for a few minutes on the events of the evening will show the child that she is interested but not suspicious."

Writes a discerning mother: "My children all tell me where they are going and when to expect them home, even the 17-year-old, like this: 'Mother, I am going to the library. I will be in at 9:15,' or 'Mother, this is National Guard night. That means in at 11.'" "Parents should give their impression of interest, not of spying," notes another mother.

"Attitude the important thing," writes Mrs. Grace E. Crum, who is a leader of study groups in California, and who conducts a wonderful course for study groups in the Child Welfare magazine. One of her groups sent in answers, all of which were unusually discriminating.

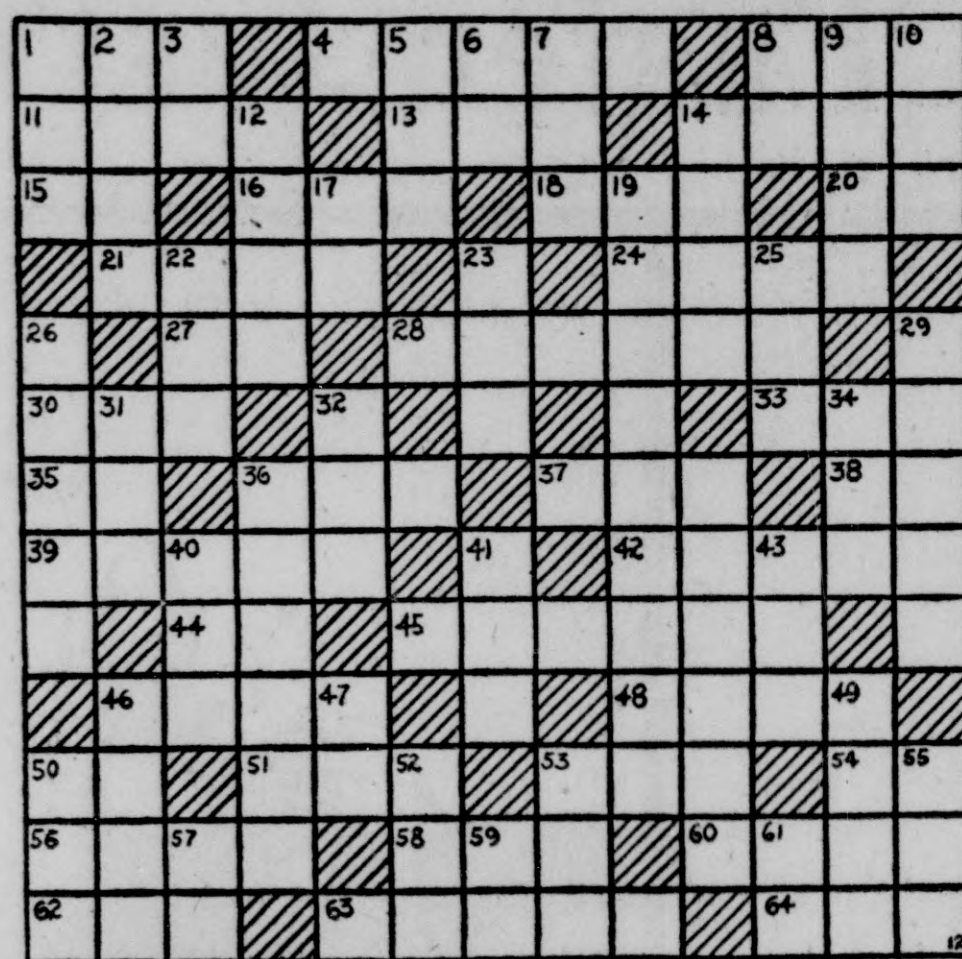

In my book, "The Modern Parent," I have said: "Unless our adolescent children choose to tell us of their outings as a matter of family enjoyment, we should not expect a report from them. Of course, we want our children to confide in us their experiences away from home; but if they do, they should choose to do so as a means of pleasure to themselves and to us. If, instead, they are forced to report as a soldier to an officer, we have lost almost everything; we then become their enemies."

"Let us work for such confidence

Peter's Adventures

THE HAPPY HUNTING GROUNDS

Peter looked long at the field of wheat and flowers.

"It's a beautiful spot," said he. "I should like to spend some time there myself."

"I'll bet you would!" Dragon-Fly and his brand new cousin chuckled. "My, how cool the breezes are and sweet with perfume. As soon as they catch sight of us the wheat and the blossoms will bob us a merry greeting, and all day long we shall hover above their heads on the lookout for a meal. Let me tell you, boy, there are few insects which can get away from us Dragon-Flies if we consider them fair prey. To tell the truth, while the summer lasts we have things pretty much our own way. We play and hunt and eat and play and eat some more. When we are Larvae we are known as the Monsters of the Pool. We change our forms to become Lords of the Air. When we haunt the Happy Hunting Grounds it is well for other insects to give us a wide berth."

"Oh, dear, oh, dear, what a terrible pain! In my side!" shrieked the brand new Dragon-Fly, at this point interrupting the tale. Peter turned to see the youngster flopping about on the ground.

"Hey, don't do that!" called the elder cousin. "You will batter your wings out of shape. Keep still a moment until I examine you with my antennae. You're all right, youngster. Nothing broken, not even bent. What a scare you gave me. I thought I had an invalid in my care, but you have only strained your side by raising your wings too quickly. You'll be all right in a jiffy!"

Mining Industry Shows the Greatest Decrease; Compensation $1,570,629

(International News Service)
HARRISBURG, April 16—A further downward trend in the number of industrial accidents in Pennsylvania during March was noted in the monthly summary made public by the Department of Labor and Industry. There were 119 fatal and 12,089 non-fatal accidents in Pennsylvania industry last month, as compared with 195 fatal and 13,712 non-fatal for the same month of 1929.

Decreases reported in March for both classes of industrial accidents were the largest reductions in many months. The total number of fatalities last month was the smallest monthly record since August, 1922, when the anthracite mines were non-operating.

The coal mining industry showed the greatest reduction in accidents.
Fatalities fell from 82 in February to 55 during March. There was a reduction of 44 per cent in the number of non-fatal accidents.

The Workmen's Compensation Bureau record shows 439 fatal accidents in the first quarter of this year while a year ago the total was 403. Transportation and coal mining record decreases in this respect, while general industrial shows a slight increase for the quarter.

Compensation agreements for the payment of $1,570,629 were approved last month by the board.

SAYS FUTURE OF AVIATION LOOKS SOUND

By HOMER H. METZ
International News Service Aviation
Editor

NEW YORK, April 16.—The aviation industry has virtually overcome the handicaps that have retarded its progress since its origin and its future is faced with sounder conditions upon which to build than ever before.

This is the expressed opinion of W.
L. Hinds, vice president of the Crouse-Hinds Company of Syracuse, who was a recent visitor to this city.

"Present conditions are strongly indicative that the industry has completely eliminated the past handicap of over-organization, over-production and over-supply of units for which there was little demand," Mr. Hinds declared. "No other specialized line of our industrial world is showing such rapid progress as is the aviation industry at present."

"Conditions of the past were necessary in order to remove from the industry those sources of supply for which there was no legitimate demand, and those enterprises which were neither stable financially or in the quality of their product."

"The basic success of the industry, however, may be clearly seen in the generous growth of those companies which have had the necessary background equipment, financing and product to actually contribute something to the progress of flying. They too, have learned the added lesson of economy, and the major companies of today are operating upon their most efficient basis."

AUTO TESTS
HARRISBURG, April 16.—Members of the State Highway Patrol examined erator's licenses during March. Of that number 4463 failed to pass the tests.

National Farm Outlook

By ARTHUR H. JENKINS
Editor, The Farm Journal
Written for Central Press

Corn has been the king of farm crops for so long that it seems like treason to suggest that its reign is drawing to a close.

The two crops that are most in the public eye and mind, of course, are not corn, but wheat and cotton—and cotton, by the way, has always claimed the title of king for itself.

There are the great cash crops that the public mind understands. Not realizing that both of them together do not equal the value of milk and its products sold every year, that hogs are as valuable as cotton, or that poultry and eggs bring in as much cash as wheat.

But the man on the farm understands these things better, and generations of agriculture have fixed corn in his mind as the solid backbone of the business. It grows wherever there is anything like normal rainfall, provided autumn frosts are enough to let the grain ripen. It is a cash crop to some extent, and it is our outstanding food for man, beast and fowl.

And yet it must be said that corn is slipping. Along with its present greatness and splendid past, it has certain grave defects.

The first of these is its heavy drain on the fertility of the soil. Corn is a great feeder, and one has only to travel a few miles over corn belt roads to see what it has done to those magnificent soils.

Land that were once thought inexhaustible have slipped back and back, until the impossible has happened, and commercial fertilizers must be bought to maintain yields.
The second fault of the corn plant is even more serious. Its consumption of plant food can be made up.
But nothing can make up the loss of the actual top soil that the clean cultivation of corn permits to be washed away by heavy rains.

This is different from the loss of fertility, and worse. It is the actual body of the soil that is washed off the cornfields, and down our muddy creeks and rivers to the sea.

Corn is not, to be sure, the only offender. Every crop that must be clean cultivated—that does not by its own efforts suppress and outgrow weeds—does the same thing to a greater or less degree.

Again, much may be accomplished by the treading of feet in rolling corn country, thus delaying the runoff of rain and the loss of soil.

It must not be expected, therefore, that corn will disappear. We may safely count on our fragrant corn and savory corn-fed bacon for generations to come.

But more and more you will hear of alfalfa, of sweet clover, of soy beans, perhaps of some new and more marvelous member of the great legume family.

Eventually corn must and will drop from the high of the procession. And this will be a good thing for the nation and the race.

"MADE ME LIKE ANOTHER MAN"

"Everything Looks a Lot Better Than It Did a Few Weeks Ago"

"World's Tonic has made me like an entirely different man," declared James T.
Short, Rochester, Pa., to the World's Tonic Interviewer. "Everything looks a lot better to me than it did a few weeks ago," said Mr. Short, who is employed by the Penn. R. R. Co.

"For several months I had attacks of indigestion and dyspepsia. I was actually afraid to eat, because after each meal my stomach filled with gas so that it bloated and this gas pressed on my heart. Sometimes it made me so short of breath that I felt I was something. Several times I lay gasping for breath and expecting each one to be my last. My bowels were all out of order, and only the strongest kind of physics every day would give me any relief.
My liver was sluggish, and I was bilious most of the time. This gave me terrible headaches, and often I was so dizzy I felt I would fall over. At night I was so nervous I could not sleep, and lay there with my body jerking and my muscles twitching.
In the morning I felt I could not get up, and with all my pains and aches I was irritable and morose. My weight dropped off greatly."

"So many of my buddies talked about World's Tonic, the new wonderful medicine used, so I thought I would give it a trial, even though some widely advertised medicine had failed to help me. I took almost two bottles before I would admit that it had done me any good. But after that improvement was rapid. Now I enjoy my meals and eat freely without fear of any more, and there is no feeling of smothering after my meals. I am free of headaches and disturbances. My nerves are stronger. I sleep restlessly and get up in the morning refreshed.
I certainly would be most ungrateful if I greatly enjoyed it. I did not urge other people to use World's Tonic. Real medicine can be obtained at Eckerd's, McKee's, Peck's, Levy's, Smith's or any other first class drug store. (A-60)

Pamphlet Tells Of Stevens' Fight To Save Schools

Addresses Of Thaddeus Stevens
Against Repeal Of School
Law Printed

HARRISBURG, April 16.—Dr. John A. H. Keith, state superintendent of public instruction, is distributing among the schools in the state a copy of the address of Thaddeus Stevens against the repeal of the common school law of 1834, delivered before the house of representatives during the 1835 session of the legislature.

School officials and teachers of the state are preparing for the centennial celebration of the establishment of the common schools and the Stevens' address, in addition to being a patriotic effort, contains valuable information concerning educational conditions as they existed 100 years ago.

Dr. Keith said:
Regarding Stevens' effort, James Pyle Wickersham, who wrote the early history of education in Pennsylvania, makes the following comment:

"Competent judges of all parties who witnessed the fight agree that had he not stood like a rock furnishing shelter and imparting strength to the free school combatants, and bidding defiance to the fiercest of those who would have struck them down, the law of 1834 would have been swept from the statute book or governor, and the day of universal education in Pennsylvania might have been indefinitely postponed."

Says Sunshine Fills Life!

"OUT of the land of existence into the land of real living" says Mrs. Ethel Hickman of Prescott, Arizona. "Each morning I wake, vibrantly alive, eager to begin another day! But it was not always thus."

"Three years ago I dragged through the hours, head aching, depressed, discouraged, utterly exhausted, and the poorest of company when my husband returned from his work."

"Then one of my friends told me her secret. She had felt just as wretched as I did. She went to her doctor."

What Doctor Said

"Throw away the pills!" he told her.
"Take the simple natural internal lubricant—Nujol." She told me it wasn't a medicine—that it was non-fattening—that it was used successfully by the most intelligent and prominent people. At last I was convinced after my druggist too recommended it.

"My experience since that happy day must be similar to that of hundreds of thousands of grateful Nujol users. My husband now takes it daily and I give it to both of my boys. How much more intelligent than dosing them with pills, physics, and purges!"

Thousands have Proved This
This is just another one of the hundreds of personal experiences that prove how Nujol can brighten a whole life and flood it with sunshine by clearing the poisons out of your system (we all have them) and giving you a chance to be well. Why don't you see what it will do for you?

Get crystal-clear Nujol at any drug store. Sold in sealed packages only—trademarked "Nujol." Insist on Nujol by name. It costs but a few cents. What an inexpensive treatment to keep you well and happy! Start this very night on the happy road to health!

Steel Makers Look To Auto Industry

In this week's issue, the Iron Trade Review has the following to say of the outlook in the steel industry:—

With the general manufacturing trade slower, pipe line projects difficult to finance, the railroads at the season when their equipment orders slacken and their specifications for track material diminish, and structural awards sluggish despite an unusually good week, iron and steel producers increasingly look to the automotive industry for support.

Due in large measure to Ford, this is forthcoming in a moderate degree. The automotive situation still lacks the vigor which usually characterizes it at this season, but sheet, strip and bar mills in the Pittsburgh, Youngstown and Cleveland districts note slight improvement in demand from Detroit.

Opinion within the iron and steel industry is mixed. Some believe that slow but steady gain in automotive production coupled with a fair volume of bridge and highway construction and the large public works program being fostered by the government will maintain the industry at a fair level through the summer.

Others are apprehensive that as specifications for material for railroad equipment bought in the last ninety days are worked off, and this will not be long, the industry will drop into a pocket from which nothing will extricate it until fall. The former opinion is rather typical of the East and the latter of the Middle West.

This unsettledness is reflected by the delicate balance in the operating situation. As noted last week, whatever change has developed in the past week in the various districts has been on the side of improvement.

Cleveland mills have expanded from 76 per cent to 82, neutralizing the loss of 2 points, to 68 per cent, at Youngstown, Chicago mills hold at 90 to 95 per cent, Pittsburgh at 75 and Buffalo at 77. Steel corporation subsidiaries, however, are at 80 per cent, compared with 83 per cent April 1.

In the heavy finished steel lines there is a wider application of preferred prices, the 1.80c to 1.85c, Pittsburgh, level on plates and shapes softening to a range of 1.75c to 1.85c, while bars are at a flat 1.80c. Contrary to past experience, producers appear to be making few efforts to strengthen the market. Concessions in wire nails have been recognized by a decline of 10 cents a keg, the new official quotation to jobbers being $2.20 and to the trade $2.30.

There is some speculation concerning the price course to be adopted by the Bethlehem Steel Co. in regard to the Youngstown Sheet & Tube Co., whose acquisition is being tested in the courts following a favorable vote of stockholders. Several years ago the Bethlehem company established basing points at its more important eastern mills. If this policy is adopted in the West, Youngstown would become a basing point for products made there, including sheets, wire products and pipe. Chicago, where Sheet & Tube now has several plants, already is a basing point.

Colorless markets are the result both of the unsettled price situation and inert secondary demand. Buying of pig iron has further subsided, but shipments in practically all districts are higher, April promising to outrun March about 15 per cent. Pig iron prices generally are unchanged, as are coke. Iron and steel scrap, while weak, moves more narrowly, indicating it nears bottom in the present dip.

Chicago mills are deferred four to six weeks in deliveries of plates and three to five weeks on shapes. Prospective pipe lines, including the 250,000-ton Texas-Chicago project, give indication they may come into the mill picture at a time when car builders' specifications are exhausted. At Pittsburgh bar, plate and shape bookings barely offset shipments.

In sheets, strip, alloy steel and other products moving largely to the automotive trade there is a shade of improvement. Open-market purchasers of semifinished steel are taking in more material. Railroads in the past week bought 1150 freight cars, leaving about 1300 freight and 48 passenger cars on inquiry. Michigan Central is repairing 1000 cars in its own shops.

March statistics on pig iron and steel ingot production in Great Britain record gains over February, but evidence a declining trend toward the end of the month. Indian basic iron is again appearing in the British markets. Iron and steel markets on the Continent continue dull, with the Germans reported booking some export business below the agreed, syndicate price.

The reduction in wire nails forced the IRON TRADE REVIEW composite of 14 leading iron and steel products down 8 cents this week, to $34.44, its lowest since March, 1922. For seven consecutive weeks this index has declined.

New GILLETTE BLADE and RAZOR

SHORTEN your daily shaving time; no more wiping—no more cut towels

YOUR WORK ends when your shave ends, with this New Gillette Blade and Razor. Simply turn guard at right angles, re-tighten, rinse under hot running water and shake dry.

Think what this means. Think of the time and temper saved. No more cut towels! No more tedious fiddling with razor parts that always seem to find the drain pipe.

This one improvement alone is worth the price of the New Gillette. Yet it is only one of many pleasing changes that you will find in this new razor and blade.

"Razor pull," for instance, won't bother you any more. "Razor pull," Gillette engineers found, is caused by nicks and dents that are put in the corners of a razor when it is dropped. In a precision instrument such as the Gillette, the smallest dent is enough to throw the blade out of perfect alignment, to make it "pull."

The New Gillette prevents "pull" for two reasons: First, the corners of the razor are reinforced with sturdy lugs of extra metal that stand a lot of abuse. Second, even if you should dent these lugs the blade is no longer held at the corners, so no harm results from dropping. Look at the new blade, and note how the corners are cut out.

The old center posts are gone. They stuck through the blade and accidentally caught and dulled the blade edges. Notice how the guard teeth are rounded back farther to meet the skin more smoothly, more comfortably. Please note, too, that the new blade-ends are square, not round, for safer handling with wet fingers. These ends shave closer around the tight little corners of mouth, nose and ears.

The price of the New Gillette Razor, 24K. gold plated, cased in a beautiful box, and equipped with New Gillette Blade, is one dollar. The New Gillette Blade is one dollar for ten and 50c for five.

Don't wait a minute to enjoy the comfort of this new and perfect shave. Visit the nearest Gillette dealer today.

Besides suffering a fractured skull Mrs. Lowers declares that the drum of her right ear was punctured, that she was rendered unconscious and remained so twenty four hours, that by reason of the injuries she is gradually losing her eyesight, while the hearing of her left ear was totally destroyed. She also received injuries about the spine that have greatly affected her.

The injuries she believes, will be permanent. Charging that the accident was due wholly to the alleged negligence of the defendant, Mrs. Lower demands $24,000 for personal injuries and her husband $1,000 to reimburse him for being deprived of the assistance of his wife and for other reasons.

Woman Of 35 Has Better Chance To Live Long Than Man Of Same Age

By JAMES L. KILGALLAN
International News Service Staff Correspondent

NEW YORK, April 16.—A man of thirty five has less chance of living to a ripe old age than a woman of thirty five.

Now, this is discouraging news to pass out today to those middle aged fellows who may be fussing over the appearance of gray hair around the temples, expanding waitlines, and the cost of supporting the family.

But the truth is death is taking an increasing toll among adults in the prime of life and after middle age. According to the research department of the Milbank Memorial Fund which bases its findings on data obtained from the Federal Census Bureau.

Dorothy G. Wiehl of the foundation's research staff presented an interesting report at a meeting held on the twenty third anniversary of the establishment of the fund.

Eight principal reasons why men die quickly after middle age were given in the report. Sixty five to eighty-five per cent of all the deaths in the United States are due, according to her report, to the following causes:

Tuberculosis, heart disease, cancer, cerebral hemorrhage, apoplexy, pneumonia, nephritis, accident.

Deaths from these eight causes during the years 1921 and 1927 were subjected to detailed analysis to determine their comparative onslaught upon men and women in cutting down the expectancy of life after maturity. These years were chosen because they are the best health years so far experienced in the United States.

"Striking conditions were noted," said Miss Wiehl. "At every age the change is more favorable for females than for males, and this is particularly true for the ages of middle life. "In the age group 35 to 44 the death rate for male in 1927 showed an increase of 12.5 per cent over the 1921 mortality as against a decrease in the female death rate of 4 per cent.

"At ages of 45 to 54, the increase for males was 13.5 per cent compared with an increase of 2.5 per cent for females.

"Even at 25 to 34, a more favorable course in the female death rate was observed.

"Between 1921 and 1927, in the age group 55 to 74 the increase in deaths of men exceeded that of women by 320 per 100,000.

Miss Wiehl's report revealed that out of every 100,000 men aged 35 to 54 years in the population, 43 more died from heart disease alone in 1927 than died in 1921; 30 more died from accidents; 21 more died from pneumonia; 9 more died from cancer, making a total of 103 more deaths in each 100,000 population from these four causes alone.

"For males aged 55 to 74 years, a more striking increased loss of life is shown," said Miss Wiehl's report. "From heart disease, 319 more out of every 100,000 men of this age died in 1927 than in 1921; 90 more died from cancer; 61 more died from accident; 42 more died from acute nephritis, 33 more died from pneumonia and 17 more died from diabetes. The total net increase in loss of life was about 600 per cent each 100,000 of the male population aged 55 to 74."

No such increase in deaths from these causes occurred among the female population, according to the report.

The three influences that preserve liberty are prayer, the common decency of man, and a nice knotty club.

SHEEP FLEE AT APPROACH OF WAR PLANES

(International News Service)
MATHER FIELD, April 16.—The mythical war between the "Blue Army", representative of the United States army air corps, and the "Red Army", a supposed foreign invader, proved entertaining and instructive to the metropolitan populace of California, but it developed into a thorn in the side of the farmers.

The roaring planes, swooping down on the remote pastoral sections of the Sacramento, San Joaquin valley, and the verdant dells of the Sierra foothill slopes, played havoc with the disposition of sheep and cattle, according to farmers.

An outstanding demonstration was furnished when 30 ships of the 13th attack group, Galveston, Texas, dove over Bullard Bar Mesa, creating a stampede among the vast flock of prize sheep sheltered there.

Bullard's Bar was one of the chief objectives of the scouting expeditions. In the section the mythical enemy could land transport planes bearing light artillery units, flanking the defending troops protected by the "Blue" air corps.

Placidly grazing sheep and lethargic herders are given little consideration when it comes to defending the country.

As the trim yellow-nosed attack ships dove down at 150 miles an hour, their machine guns trained on the grassy plain, the herd of over 3,000 sheep milled into a compact mass in the center of the mesa.

The frantic efforts of the yapping collie dogs were unavailing. The sheep responded to instinct and sought safety in following the leader.

The ewes, watchful of the welfare of their lambs, scampered helter-skelter, dodging the shadows reflected by the fighting ships, for in them they saw visions of monster hawks whose most prized meal is young lambs.

The mesa is out of the line of travel for air mail ships and commercial aircraft, so the steady bark of the motors and the speeding shadows were new to the cattle.

In the ordinary route of the Sacramento valley air mail and commercial ships it is noticeable that herds and flocks pay little attention to the activities of planes, continuing their grazing when the planes soar over the field.

Fake Maple Sirup Causes Jail Term

Dealers Warned Against Buying Product Below Prevailing Price

HARRISBURG, Apr. 16.—One Pittsburgh man is in jail in default of bail and another has paid a heavy fine for selling 'bootleg' maple sirup in western Pennsylvania, according to James W. Kellogg, director of the bureau of foods and chemistry, Pennsylvania Department of Agriculture.

The "pure sirup" being imported into Pennsylvania by motor truck from an adjoining state was found upon analysis to be the ordinary cane sugar sirup artificially colored and flavored. The product was sold to food retailers particularly those in the small towns of western Pennsylvania, direct from motor trucks. Counties in which such operations have been reported recently include moreland and Bedford.

The Bureau of foods and chemistry is making a determined campaign to break up this ring of maple sirup bootleggers.

All dealers who are approached by persons selling maple sirup below the prevailing price for the genuine product are urged to be on guard and to notify the bureau of foods and chemistry at Harrisburg wherever there is suspicion of fraud. The bureau will take prompt action and prosecute every case where a careful analysis indicates that the product is not as represented.

Roosevelt Signs Extradition For Mumbulo And Wife

Governor Of New York State Signs Papers Giving Alleged Slayers To Penna.

FACE CHARGES OF KILLING YOUNG GIRL

(International News Service) ALBANY, N. Y., April 16.—Governor Franklin D. Roosevelt today signed papers to extradite Ralph Mumbulo and wife to Erie, Pa., where they are wanted for questioning in the torch murder of Mumbulo's eleven year old daughter Hilda.

After Gov. Roosevelt announced Monday at the extradition hearing that he would grant extradition, it was found there was a technical error in the papers and a new set had to be obtained from the Pennsylvania authorities.

The Mumbulos are being held in the Norwich, N. Y., jail. They were arrested a week ago Saturday on the farm of a friend near Norwich on a warrant charging them with being fugitives from justice.

Supreme Court Justice Abraham L. Kellogg of Oneonta yesterday handed down a decision at Norwich denying application for the release of the Mumbulos on a writ of habeas corpus.

Mumbulo's daughter was burned to death at his apartment in Erie, Pa., after authorities claim her clothes and bed had been soaked with gasoline.

At the hearing before Gov. Roosevelt, District Attorney Otto Herbst of Erie charged that the Mumbulos caused the girl's death in order to obtain property worth $8,000 left her by her mother who died seven years ago.

Mumbulo and his present wife were married in Monroe, Pa., about ten days after the girl's death.

FARM CALENDAR

Timely Reminders From The Pennsylvania State College School of Agriculture

Plant Forest Trees—Do we need more forest trees? The answer is that at present four to six times as much timber is used as is being grown. Planting trees on idle lands will help relieve the situation. Write to the Pennsylvania State College for Circular 130, which tells how to do this.

Poultry Products Popular—Approximately one dime of every dollar expended for food goes for poultry products, six cents for eggs and four cents for poultry meats. This indicates the esteem in which poultry products are held by the American consumer.

Increase Herd Efficiency—When prices of dairy products are low it is a good time to put the herd on a more efficient basis of production. Cutting down the feed is not considered good economy; culling out inferior cows is a profitable practice. Testing will show which cows should go and which should stay.

Sow Good Vegetable Seed—Only high quality vegetable seeds of proven varieties or strains should be sown. Vegetable gardening specialists of the Pennsylvania State College caution against sowing seed too thickly in the row. Much thinning can be avoided by more careful sowing. Where thinning is needed it should be done early to give the remaining plants a chance to make full growth.

Obtain Healthy Chicks—The source of baby chicks is important well-bred, good, healthy, vigorous chicks may cost slightly more but they will be cheaper than poor ones in the end. Protect Orchard Trees—Spray thoroughly to protect the fruit trees from insect and disease attacks.

AUTOMOBILE STOLEN

Glass Plant Is Damaged By Fire

(International News Service) UNIONTOWN, Pa., April 16.—Fire raging in the Mastontown Glass plant along the Monongahela river at Mastontown, near here, early today, threatened to cut off the town's water supply for a time.

Tramps are believed to have set afire straw in the packing house of the plant. The factory has been idle since 1918.

The town's pumping station, which stood near the plant, was threatened by flames and intense heat. But firemen saved it along with the Monongahela railroad station, an old brewery plant, a meat market and several freight cars.

Boston To View Replica Of Famous Pilgrim Ship

By GENE KOWSKIE, International News Service Staff Correspondent

BOSTON, April 16.—As the small black speck far out on the horizon gradually grew larger and took form, a small group of men, women and children on the wharf at Salem broke into a happy cheer.

After many weeks of watching and waiting, hoping and playing, at last the good ship Lady Arbella had safely made the long and perilous journey from England.

On board the 350-ton vessel, as she proudly rode into Salem Harbor with every inch of sail belling before the wind, was a distinguished group of persons, foremost among them being Governor John Winthrop of Massachusetts Bay Colony.

And with him he carried the Charter giving civic and religious liberty to his people.

NOTED GERMAN PRAISES U. S. FOR CULTURE AND ART

(International News Service)

DENVER, April 16.—"I want the young people of Germany to know this great country as I do," declared Dr. Frederick Schoenemann of the University of Berlin, a Denver visitor recently, whose mission in life, he says, is "to aid the younger generation of my country to understand America and its people better."

"I want to do whatever I can, be it ever so little, to foster a better feeling between these two great nations," said Dr. Schoenemann. "We can learn things from each other. America is cultured, highly so. It is a culture that appreciates art, and appreciates the development of artists. I would squander all my money buying American art if I could afford it."

Dr. Schoenemann was exchange professor at Harvard University for ten years, from 1911 to 1920. He was the only German citizen in the American schools to be permitted to continue teaching during the World War.

Anti-Prohibition Head Claims Right To Revolt

Says Assoc' tion Against Prohibition Amendment Supporting Pennsylvania Candidate

ASSERTS DAVIS
IS STRADDLING

(International News Service) WASHINGTON, April 16.—The citizens of the United States have as much right to revolt, armed or otherwise, against the 18th amendment as they did in the days of 1776, Henry H. Curran, president of the Association Against the Prohibition Amendment, told the senate lobby investigating committee today.

He declared the wets of the nation were in "revolt" against the prohibition amendment and that "five sovereign states" had joined in the revolt. He asserted that the wets had a right to use armed force to uphold their views, but he hoped the time would never come when the prohibition law would provoke bloodshed.

Armed Revolt.
"Would you take up arms against it?" he was asked.
"I think that the rights of mankind should be defended in any way," Curran replied. "I hope the time will never come when we will have to resort to arms in this revolt. If it ever does we will cross the bridge when we come to it."

Curran predicted when he first took the stand that the 18th amendment will be repealed within five years. "Already five sovereign states are in open revolt and three out of four people want the amendment repealed," he declared.

In a hearing replete with outbursts by the dries on the committee against the leader of the wets, the New Yorker remained calm, cool and smiling.

Rights Taken Away.
The dramatic suggestion came at the conclusion of the hearing when Chairman Caraway asked Curran if he believed that the people's rights have been interfered with as much by the 18th amendment as under King George III.

"I certainly do," Curran answered. "The association spent last year $41,813 for postage."

"I see here an item of $32,059 for political expenses. Do you make direct expenditures in campaigns?" asked Caraway.

"Did you contribute in the recent Massachusetts election?"

"Yes, we gave a man named Hinkle $1,500 in the primaries. He is a Republican."

What To Eat

Avoid Gas—Indigestion

Strict diets are often unnecessary in stomach trouble. While some foods do produce excessive acidity and many stomachs do generate "too much acid" causing gas, sourness, bloating and after-eating pains, the trouble may be safely and quickly corrected by the use of a good alkaline. Bisurated Magnesia—powder or tablets—is ideal for this purpose. Just a little after meals neutralizes all the excess acid, prevents souring, breaks up gas and ends indigestion. Favorite foods no longer upset stomach and digestion is easy and painless. It will do all this for you at money back. Reliable druggists everywhere sell Bisurated Magnesia with this guarantee.

SAN ANGELO, Tex., April 16.—Advocating that the government give every poor man a cow, C. A. Mitchner, of Sherwood, Tex., is stumping his state in an active campaign for the office now held by Morris Sheppard, United States senator.

Mitchner's platform bristles with unique planks. He would close the Chicago and New York stock exchanges with federal troops; hold a plebiscite in Canada to determine whether Canada wants to enter the Union; give the Philippines their liberty; make the United States Navy the peer of any flotilla on the seven seas; and recognize and open trade relations with Soviet Russia.

Mitchner is believed to be the first senatorial candidate ever to be announced for office in a weekly newspaper. He paid the Mertz, Tex., Star $7.50 for his announcement. He is county attorney of Irion county, West Texas, which has 625 voters this year, and is a former school teacher and a graduate of the University of Indiana.

The 60-year-old candidate can find plenty of cattle in his home county if he succeeds in carrying out his plan of giving a cow to every poor man, for there are 75,000 cattle in Irion county.

Supports Modification
Disagreeing with Sheppard on the prohibition law, Mitchner would permit the sale of light wines and beer. "I am not an anti-prohibition fanatic," he says, "I do not want to see the 18th amendment repealed, but I do want to see the Volstead Act modified so that those who want it may have light wines and beer and will not be molested by some prohibition snapper."

"What a sorry plight this country has got into when these prohibition fanatics applaud the killings that are being committed every day in the name of law enforcement. If the good Lord wanted to, he could have created man a complete abstainer. Did he do it? No, he wanted a real man."

"It is my opinion that if the Volstead Act is modified, it will go a long way toward an observance and respect for the 18th amendment.

Would Distribute Cows
"The last plank in my platform," he says, "is that I would give every poor man a cow and if he is too poor to drive her home, we will drive her home for him."

Forsee Larger Coke Production

CONNELLSVILLE, Pa., April 16.—Preliminary steps have been taken by merchant coke producing interests with a view to larger production, or at least to be prepared for an expected increase in demand.

Last week this group of operators enlarged their active oven quota by a net addition of 292 ovens, 376 having been blown in and 94 discontinued. This is the first appreciable change in the merchant list for several weeks and lately the tendency has been toward reduction rather than enlargement.

There was an addition of 920 tons to the weekly output last week with an increase of 470 in the furnace group and 450 in the merchant ovens. The result was an increase in the regional output of 32,250 the largest in a week since February 22.

Divorce, Liquor Are Blamed For Wave Of Crime

JEFFERSON CITY, Mo., April 16.—Fast living, moonshine whiskey and breaking up of homes are the chief causes of the increasing populations of the various penitentiaries in the opinion of Warden Leslie Rudolph of the Missouri state prison, one of the largest in the country.

Rudolph has been connected with the state prison for 21 years, having risen from a guard to warden. He has been a close student of the inmates who have come to the Missouri penitentiary and has seen its population double in the last 20 years.

The Missouri prison now contains more than 4,000 men.
"Fast living has led to many young men desiring to get money easy," Rudolph said. "That and moonshine whiskey. A few drinks and a man doesn't know or care what he is doing."

Divorces also lead an ever growing number of men to prison," he said. "A percentage of men who come here have had their home life broken up by divorce or separation in the family," he said.

HARRISBURG, April 16.—Dependents of those killed and injured in explosions at the Pennsylvania Fireworks Display Company, Inc., Devon, will receive between $40,000 and $50,000, officials of the state workmen's insurance fund said today. The state insurance fund is the compensation carrier for the company.

(International News Service)

Mrs. Rose Probinik was performing her duties at a polling place during the recent primary in this city when she saw, on a woman who came in to vote, a dress which looked suspiciously like the one that had been stolen from her home.

Mrs. Probinik investigated and the prospective voter, Miss Arzella Banks, was locked up, as was Edward Coleman, who was charged with the burglary.

Fixes Date For New Film Rules To Be Effective

HARRISBURG, April 16.—Peter Glick secretary of the State Department of Labor and Industry, has designated April 19 as the date that the new regulations for storage and handling of photographs and X-ray nitrocellulose films become effective. The regulations provide means of protection of both unexposed films and film negatives, with special rules for portrait and commercial studios, hospitals and similar institutions.

Approval was given the rules by the Industrial Board after extensive study of conditions coupled with a series of public hearings attended by persons affected. Compliance with these rules is expected to avert catastrophes in Pennsylvania, such as occurred in Cleveland and elsewhere within the past two years.

Sells Auto Theft Policy, But He Loses Own Car

AKRON, O., April 16.—James S. Jackson believes in practical demonstration. He sold an automobile insurance policy recently through such a demonstration, although it proved costly to him. While he was talking to a prospect, someone stole a car from in front of the house. After he had given up trying to sell the policy, he found his car was stolen. He told the prospect the sad news and sold the policy on the spot.

AMERICA IS CHOOSING

ACCEPT THIS INVITATION—

Prove BUICK supremacy in traffic, on hills, on the straightaway—choose the car that's winning two-to-one buyer preference in its field.

May we make just one suggestion: Take the wheel of a BUICK and experience the full measure of its abilities before buying any car. Then buy according to results!

Performance! That's what you want... performance plus the exceptional beauty of Body by Fisher... and a ride in any one of the 15 Buick models will prove a revelation of power, flexibility, swiftness, smoothness and stamina.

Fine car owners everywhere are preferring Buick. In fact, so marked is the trend to Buick that America is awarding it from 35 to 50 per cent of the combined sales of the fifteen makes in its price class. But be your own judge of Buick's performance and value. Come, take the wheel!

HIGHLIGHTS OF HISTORY

By J. Carroll Mansfield

The Story Of American Industry Whaling (Part Two)—The Whale Hunt.

WHEN THE LOOKOUT IN THE "CROWSNEST" OF THE WHALER SIGHTED A WHALE, HE GAVE THE WARNING CRY, "THERE SHE BLOWS." AT ONCE THE WHALEBOATS WERE LOWERED, AND THE HUNTERS ROWED TOWARD THEIR PREY.

SILENTLY AND CAUTIOUSLY THEY APPROACHED THE WHALE. COMING WITHIN RANGE, THE EXPERIENCED HUNTER, WHO STOOD IN THE BOW OF THE WHALEBOAT, HURLED THE IRON HARPOON INTO THE SEA MONSTER AND MADE THE LINE FAST.

WHEN THE FIGHT BEGAN, SOMETIMES THE WHALE, MADDENED WITH PAIN, CHARGED TOWARD THE BOAT, AND ALL THE SKILL OF THE STEERSMAN WAS REQUIRED IN DODGING ITS RUSHES. MORE OFTEN THE WHALE DARTED OFF AT TERRIFIC SPEED, TOWING THE BOAT AFTER IT.

FREQUENTLY THE WHALEBOAT WAS CARRIED MILES AWAY FROM THE SHIP BY THE WOUNDED WHALE IN ITS DESPERATE EFFORTS TO ESCAPE. BUT THE HUNTERS HUNG ON DETERMINEDLY, AND, AT LAST THE WHALE, EXHAUSTED BY ITS STRUGGLES, SLOWED ITS PACE. THEN THE BOAT DREW NEAR, AND THE WHALE WAS KILLED WITH A THRUST OF THE LANCE.

Woman Official At Harrisburg Is Found "Short"

Charges Made By Dr. John A.
H. Keith Against Mrs.
Helen S. Herrman

(International News Service)
HARRISBURG, April 16.—Charged with irregularities in her accounts amounting to between $4,000 and $6,000, Mrs. Helen S. Herrman, secretary and treasurer of the state board of examiners for registration of nurses, was in her home today, suffering a near collapse.

The shortage and the charges against Mrs. Herrman were announced here yesterday by Dr. John A. H. Keith, superintendent of public instruction.

It is the second time within a half year that state employees have been under such charges. Last fall Guy H. Thomas, then an employee of the department of agriculture, and Charles C. Stark, a real estate man, were charged with obtaining $129,000 thru issuance of false cattle indemnity vouchers. Thomas was sentenced to serve from six to 12 years and Stark three to six years in Eastern penitentiary.

According to Dr. Keith, the shortage in Mrs. Herrman's accounts started shortly after her employment in October, 1925.

Definite fixing of the amount awaits a final checking by the auditor general's department.

Aides To Byrd Return Home And Tell Experiences

Three Of Commander Byrd's
Aides At South Pole Reach
San Francisco

(International News Service)
SAN FRANCISCO, April 16.—Three aides of Commander Richard Byrd on his South Pole expedition today told of their experiences.

They were Captain A. N. Parker, marine corps aviator; Captain C. A. McKinley, United States army photographer and O. A. Thorne, surveyor for the party.

All arrived here on the liner Maritima from New Zealand.

Captain Parker who alternated with Berndt Balchen in flying Byrd's three planes, spent 150 hours in the air on the expedition.

"It's all in a day's work for a marine corps flyer," he said, in discussing his flight with the commander over the pole. "But it might have been a sad story had we developed motor trouble over those icy wastes. However, the cold apparently had no ill effect on our engines."

Captain McKinley, who took pictures on the pole flight, said: "The pole is flat. All we could see was ice."

Still the kind of men who make financial killings in other sections might do it even in your section.

Bo Broadway by JOSEPH VAN RAALTE

By Central Press
NEW YORK, April 16.—Seven years ago the team of Bard and Pearl crashed vaudeville from burley-cue and vent thence into the Broadway reviews. They were "pals," in all the word implies.

Ben revealed in the title of the "best dressed straight man in vaudeville" and used to sing "Pallagi" (a little cff key) in his dressing room. He went in heavy for Culcher.

With tears in his Valentino, Symrna-raisin eyes he used to tell the panting females of the show about Martha Pryor, his "true blue love" little wife.

But Broadway got him. He and his partner split, later came the news of a divorce from Martha Pryor, and then he headed for Hollywood.

His Romeoing wasn't as hot in pictures as it was elsewhere. Zukor, Lasky and the Warners passed him by. Then he met Ruth Roland, the serial thriller of other days, who through her real estate operations is reputed to be the richest woman on The Coast.

She looked into Ben Bard's eyes, darker than ashbuds in the front of March and he asked her if she

Steel Production
Displays Increase

(International News Service)

PITTSBURGH, April 16.—With iron and steel business holding its own, and in some cases making moderate seasonal gains, an increase in production of from 76 to 85 per cent in Cleveland steel works and an operating average of from 70 to 75 per cent of capacity in the Youngstown district will be noted by the Iron Age tomorrow in its weekly summary of the iron and steel trade.

Operations average for the country at large, is 78 per cent, compared with 76 per cent last week and the steel corporation rate remains at 77 to 78 per cent. Specifications for hot-rolled strip have gained 10 per cent and shipments of pig iron 15 to 20 per cent. More flexible prices are noted in the heavier finished products with plates and shapes, hitherto held rather generally at a minimum of 1.80c per pound, being shaded $1 and sometimes $2 a ton. Delivered prices on plates and shapes at New York are off $1 a ton and irregularities have again appeared in manufacturers' wire, with orders at $2.30 reported. The Iron Age composite price for pig iron remains unchanged at $17.75 a gross ton and finished steel unchanged at 2.264c.

Urges School Aid
In Clean-up Week

HARRISBURG, April 16.—The general observance of Clean-Up Week which is now in progress throughout the State should have a very vital interest and co-operation on the part of school boards, principals, and school janitors, according to John G. Ziegler, chief, school sanitation, section of the State Health Department. Ziegler today advised that someone in each school district should be specifically designated to arrange for a systematic clean-up of all school grounds. All rubbish, discarded text books and broken furniture should be removed from the basements of school buildings. Janitors should be instructed to give particular attention to fresh air rooms and fresh air chambers in connection with the heating systems. Ziegler criticized the use of such rooms for storage purposes. "Cleanliness in the school building denotes care, order and discipline," Ziegler said, "and is indicative of the efficiency that brightness, neatness and above all—cleanliness, very particularly affect the morale and health of a school."

SEVILLE, Spain, April 16.—A crowd of several thousand persons, many of whom had stood an all-night vigil, were gathered at the Seville airport today awaiting the arrival of the Graf Zeppelin, now enroute from Friedrichshafen, Germany, her home base. As the huge ship, carrying a full crew of forty and twenty passengers, sped down the Portuguese and Spanish coasts toward its destination, the crowd gradually increased in numbers. A ground crew composed of 500 soldiers from the Seville garrison was held in readiness to guide the airship down to earth. Latest reports put the Graf over Lisbon, Portugal, at 9:40 a. m. (5:20 a. m. Eastern Standard Time). She appeared to be making good progress, and her arrival was expected here momentarily.

Athletics And Cubs Start Out With Victories—Pirates Come Through

KEEN PENNANT RACES PROMISED

By DAVIS J. WALSH
International News Service
Sports Editor

NEW YORK, April 16.—One day old and just starting to prattle idly for its pacifier, the 1930 ball season was only a brat on its mother's knee this morning, yet certain inherited tendencies were beginning to break through the wall of natural reserve that one so young is bound to present to the world. The two best ball clubs in the two best leagues, for one thing, were out in front, thus sustaining the experts' prophecy. A camel can go eight days without water but twenty-four hours it a long time to sustain an expert.

For another thing, the suspicion that the New York Giants are liable to win no pennants in a very marked manner was emphasized during the day of inaugural games. So was the class of the world's champion Athletics, also the hitting of the league-champion Cubs.

Macks Beat Yanks
The Athletics followed the first principal of success, which says, "beat the good ones." They beat the best one they could find, which happened to be the ex-champion Yankees 6 to 2. This was mere routine to Mr. Cornelius Mack's ball club which spent a large part of last year in beating the ex-champion Yankees, thus acquiring a pennant. The Athletics looked very good behind their ace-pitcher, Mr. Left-hand Grove.

Cubs Hit Hard
The Cubs got ten cents worth of pitching but a million dollars worth of hitting, so at least this part of it was not unlike 1929. They got in front of the Cards and stayed there to win by 9 to 8. Rhem having nothing except his 1926 record. Poor old doddering Hornsby made only two hits and all he could do was handle four chances perfectly. Hartnett's arm was so bad that he was utterly incapable of throwing out two men until some time after they had started.

As for the Giants, they merely resumed the business of beating the Braves in the customary manner, this time in the ninth 3 to 2. Even when winning, the club didn't look good. It seemed to lack assurance, cohesion. It appeared at times that all the Braves had to do was hit one in the air and keep running. Marshall, the new second baseman, was plausible in his debut but Roettger did nothing except throw one resolutely against the stands on a play at the plate. Meanwhile, Fisher, one of the men used in the Roettger trade, had blown himself to four hits.

Simmons Hit Homer
Simmons, of course, stole the show from Ruth over in Philadelphia, although the latter achieved the unique by stretching a home run into two bases. His drive was about to clear the fence, when it smote one of the park's loud speakers right on the larynx and returned to the playing field. In the same inning Lazzeri deemed the side to have been retired and tossed the ball in the general direction of nowhere. Whereupon Koenig hastened to retrieve it and gallantly chased a base runner, who readily had been declared out. Ap-

Herrera-Culver Tilt Next Monday

Lightweights Are Scheduled To Box Here On Monday

Jimmie Thomas Of Pittsburgh Tackles Jackie Ward—Other Bouts

People who have never seen a Mexican "jumping bean" will get an opportunity to see a "humanized edition" when Tony Herrera, the sensation of the lightweights clashes with Steve Culver, the Boston blonde in a 10 round bout here Monday night. According to those who have seen the Mexican score victory after victory, he not only is one of the most graceful figures in the ring but a deadly puncher. Al Lippe, manager of Culver, puts the "Okay" on Steve and has written friends here to the effect that "If Culver hits Herrera in the pit of the stomach or on the chin, Mr. Herrera will drop."

Culver is a seasoned lightweight, a good puncher and plenty durable according to Lippe who seconded Ferrer against the Mexican jumping bean. Lippe smiled in the seventh round of the Ferro-Herrera fight when Frankie sent a hard right to Herrera's "tummy" and the latter backed away. In fact the seventh round was a trying sensation for the Mexican and he was glad to hear the bell ring. Up to that time and after the seventh, however, Herrera was out in front by a block.

Tony is a rather smart ringster else he wouldn't be piling up knockouts every week or more. When Culver tries to "get to him" he will be trying plenty himself. As he now is ranked fifth best lightweight in the world he will endeavor to keep that title in the estimation of the fans. Having everything to gain and nothing to lose will inspire the Easterner and prospects for a rapid-fire punch fuel are bright for Monday night.

Jackie Ward, the cross-eyed bantamweight of Cleveland who thrilled with Bud Demsey will tackle Jimmie Thomas, colored bantamweight of Pittsburgh. The latter has been knocking his foes "goofy" and challenged Ward. This ought to make a fast six round whirl.

Frankie Frey, New Castle and Jimmy Taylor, Cleveland, middleweights, will prance and step in another six rounder and the fistic proclivities will start when Jackie King, Wampum and Eddie Flick, formerly of Oil City, now protegee of Bob Laterra toss gloves in the six round opening bout.

The Herrera-Culver bout will be followed by a class April 28, between Phil Tobias, New York and Frenchy Belanger, Toronto. All the flyweights except Belanger have been sidestepping Tobias. Belanger, former Canadian king of flyweights is a great fighter and the bout should go over big.

Efforts are being made to match Tom Heeney the Australian who battled Gene Tunney and other boys up front with Al Friedman. Heeney is rounding into condition but Charlie Harvey says he won't meet in any goes until the latter part of May.

The bouts next Monday night at the bowl ought to prove a magnet for the fans. Herrera is the biggest drawing ace in Western Pennsylvania and Culver is a favorite around Boston. He has beaten Jackie Pilkington, Marty Elkins and Pinky Kaufman in addition to knocking George Day and other New Englanders.

These 20 high schools will be the winners from over 50 schools which will on that date vie with each other in the most unique and interesting track event held in Western Pennsylvania, or the United States as far as is known. In addition to these school trophies over 100 gold, silver and bronze medals will be the prized possessions and will proudly adorn a like number of the elite of the "cinder path" of high schools of the tri-state district.

The Senior High School Athletic Council is awarding the medals, but the beautiful bronze plaques are being donated by a number of the leading business men of New Castle.

Lehigh Boys Top Electrics 23-3

It was up on the Lehigh field last night, and the Lehigh Cement muball team was making "merry". The Penn-Ohio Electrics, newcomers to muball essayed to take the starch out of the cement mixers but got all over-heated chasing hard hit balls and consequently the "Light" boys are wondering today who suggested this game anyhow.

But the Penn-Ohio team showed possibilities and will be heard from ere the season gets very far. Steve Kleckner and Charles Rich occupied the knoll for the Cementers and Gus Thompson was behind the bat, with Wesley Davy, the good looking business manager sitting on the bench sort of directing the play and taking Thompson into his confidence quite a few times on regard to intricate plays. Smith hurried for the Penn-Ohio team and Cummings was on the receiving end. Davy in reporting the game today said that all the Lehigh boys hit hard and often, which is bad news to the other teams in the New Castle Muball league. This was only a practice game and didn't count.

Mister Davy, said today that he would like to let his Lehigh sluggers romp with some of the other teams, just for practice sake. In case your wind is good it may be all right to accept the offer, otherwise, blooie.

Frenchy Berlinger Wins Another Fight

Frenchy Berlinger, one of the greatest flyweights, turned in another victory last night beating Quina Lee in a 10 rounds at Winnipeg. Frenchy tackles Phil Tobias here April 28. He is one of the few of flyweights who likes to stand up and slug with boys like Phil Tobias.

San Antonio Fans Boost Local Boy Who Is Leading Off Batting List

San Antonio fans who have seen "Sank" McCullough, local product, in action, are firm in their belief that the New Castle boy is in for a big year with the Texas League organization.

"Sank" made the spring training trip with the New York Giants, and while he showed class in the training camp, the Giants had several more experienced men on their rolls whom it would be hard to displace and McCullough was sent to the San Antonio team in the Texas League, which is a fast organization.

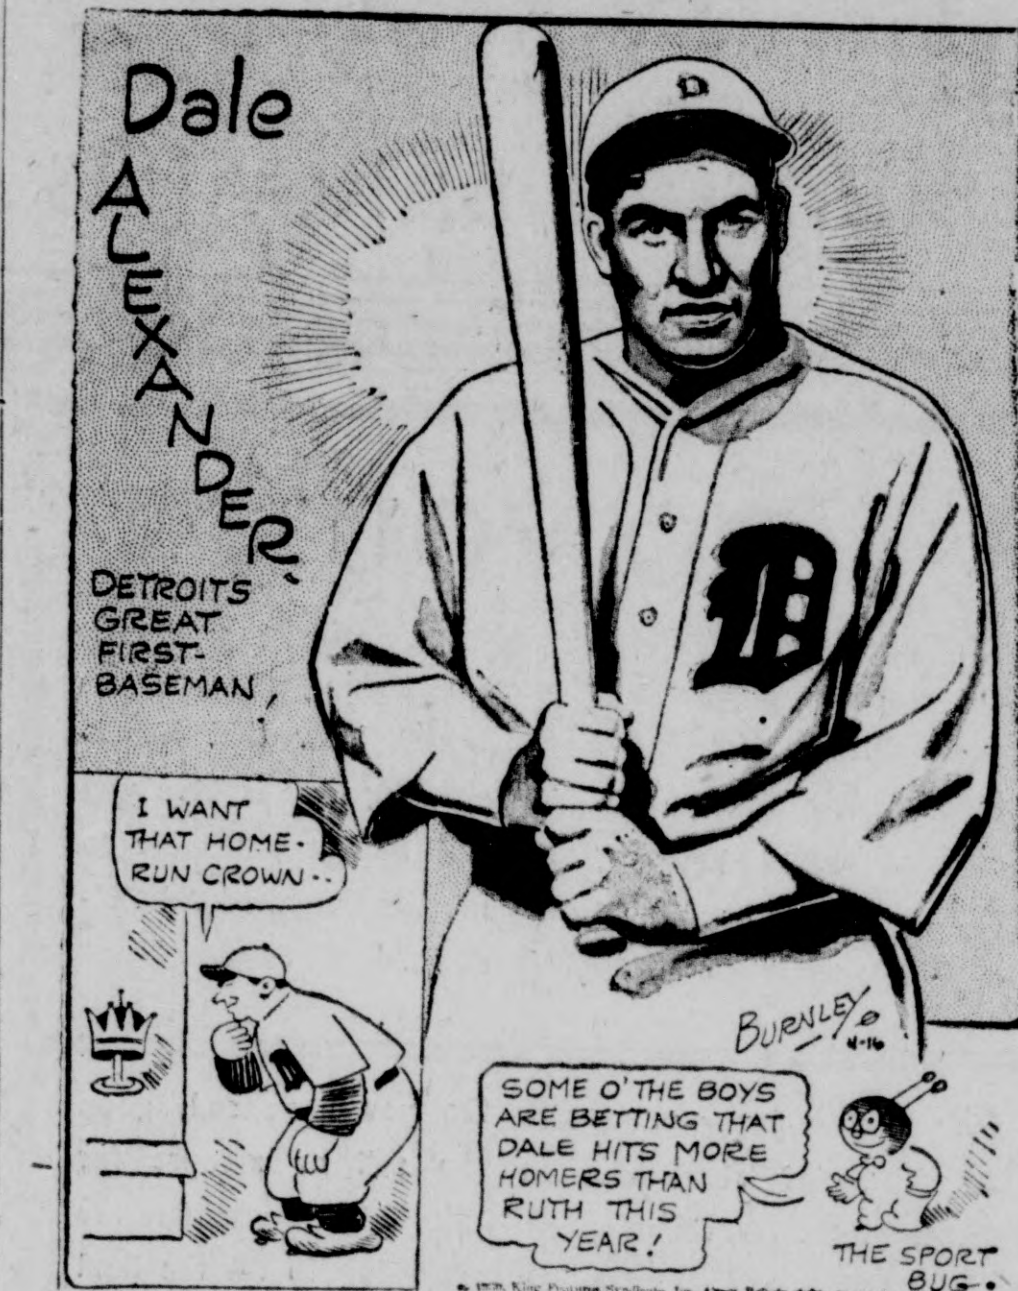

His work in the few days preceding the opening of the regular Texas League season so impressed the management that he was placed at third base as a regular and given the lead-off position on the batting list.

"Sank" has had considerable experience at the hot station and is no longer a youngster. His work in the Texas League will be watched with interest by fans here, and no doubt the Giant management will also keep a close eye on his work down South.

"Sank" played with the Massillon Agathons last season and his stellar work there attracted the attention of the Giant scouts, who recommended that he be given a tryout.

STRUB DROPS AWARD
Maxie Strub dropped a close decision to Phil Griffin in a 10 round bout at Newark and Tug Phillips drew with Ray Rivera.

Another Alexander!!

Detroit fans feel sure that their Tigers have another baseball superstar in Dale Alexander, strapping first baseman, who batted for 343 in 155 American league games last season, who hit 25 home runs during the same period, and who is tabbed by many—

"Babe Ruth's successor as King of Clout." That latter, of course, is a big order to fill.

Even the original Alexander the Great might have given up all thoughts of more worlds to conquer had the ancient Fates sent him after records like Ruth's!

But Detroit's dauntless Dale is not to be deterred. He will surely try to out-homer the Babe in 1930 at least. That is a reasonable ambition. For as Time's corpulent touch tends more and more to retard the Homeric Ruth, other sluggers—possibly the Tiger Alexander—should bounce 'em into the teachers while the Babe swings just too late!

Detroit's "Alex" has priceless youth and a magnificent physique built from childhood on a Tennessee farm.

Sound seasoning in the minors has developed Dale to the point where he was a genuine star last season, with promise of an even better showing in 1930.

Big "Alex" still seems a trifle awkward around first, but he goes after everything and his great reach is a big help to the other infielders. Dale has struggled diligently to improve his fielding and he has progressed much in that direction.

However, it is with the war club that "Alex" should pound his way to the heights via drives that will remind the fans of Ruth in his dazzling prime. Moreover, he has a great name to live up to. What a whale Dale will be in baseball if he prove as great a batter as the extraordinary Grove Cleveland Alexander was as a pitcher for many years!

Ah, if "Ol' Pete" had but Dale's youth! But the sport bug is dreaming now of the new Alexander. Yet, in doing so, you just can't keep grand ol' "Alex" out of mind! He was a GREAT ALEXANDER!

Reveal Carnera's Opponent "Fixed"

Negro Heavyweight Knocked Out By Carnera On Coast Says He Was "Fixed"

(International News Service) SAN FRANCISCO, April 16.—The State Athletic commission was to hold another meeting today, when it will attempt to probe deeper into the peculiar ending of the fight at Oakland Monday night between Primo Carnera, the giant Italian, and Leon "Bombo" Chevalier, Negro heavyweight.

Today Carnera, his two managers, Leon See and Bill Duffy, and his western representative, Frank Churchill, are expected to be present at the investigation.

The fight was awarded to Carnera in the sixth round on a technical knockout when Bob Perry, one of Chevalier's seconds, threw in a towel. Yesterday the Negro fighter said he was not in distress when the towel was hurled in the ring, and it is charged that Perry tossed in the token of defeat to save Carnera from a possible defeat.

Chevalier also charged that Perry threatened him with death if he didn't quit to Carnera. He also charged Perry with rubbing him with a sponge which caused his eyes and nose to burn. Perry denied the charges.

It was also charged that Churchill and Perry conversed while the fight was under way and that Perry had associated with the Carnera contingent before the fight.

Second Denies Charges
The Negro fighter also said that Bob Laga, another second, told him to "lay down" in the first round just as he was entering the ring. This accusation was also denied by Laga.

The boxing commission was apparently satisfied that both fighters were doing their best. They said they would be willing to fight again for the purse which was held up by the commission.

As the result of the fiasco at Oakland, Bill Kyne, San Francisco sportsman, has withdrawn his offer of $150,000 to Carnera for a fight with Jack Dempsey, Nate Druzman, Seattle promoter, has also decided to cancel the Italian's engagement in the northwest.

Island Fire Leaves Twelve Thousand In Homeless Condition

(International News Service) MANILA, April 16.—One of the worst fires in the history of Occidental Negroes, a Southern province, inflicted heavy damage to the town of Sagay and adjacent forests, according to word received here today.

Early but incomplete reports stated that 12,000 persons were left homeless by the fire and that damage might reach the 5,000,000 peso mark.

The Insular Lumber Company, an American firm, was said to have suffered the heaviest losses.

HERE AND THERE IN SPORTS' LAND

Young Corsey, junior lightweight boxer, who has fought several times at Jolly bowl, is dead, having been killed in an automobile accident near Akron. The fatal accident occurred Sunday. It will be recalled that Young Kaiser, also known here was killed in an auto crash at Akron several months ago.

Leon Bombo Chevalier, 216 pound negro who fought Carnera at Frisco testified before the California Boxing commission that he had been threatened with death if he did not take a dive. He accused one Bob Perry of making the threat. It is alleged Perry threw in the towel from Chevalier's corner.

The towel was thrown into the ring in the sixth and reports state that Chevalier had outfought Carnera up to that time. Tim McGrath his manager testified he believed the negro would have finished the fight. It looks as though the pellets are about ready to start.

West Virginia defeated Fairmont Normal 16 to 3. Illinois won from Mississippi A & M 9 to 1 and Vanderbilt chalked up a 6-5 victory over Michigan in college baseball games.

At Syracuse, N. Y., Cambridge-Oxford won a game in lacrosse from Syracuse 11 to 1.

Lassa broke the track record at Wheeling yesterday in the fourth race stepping six furlongs at 1:15 3-5. The old record was made in 1921 by Mar-mite. The Hancher golden anniversary went to Sweepstake. In the events four favorites and a second choice finished on top to give form players an even break.

Tony Herrera and Steve Culver will arrive here Sunday. Herrera is training in Chicago and Culver is working out in Bridgeport, Conn., with Steve Smith. Dick Griffin who discovered Herrera and piloted him in his early days will second the Mexican. Al Lippe will take charge of Culver.

STAR SOUTHPAW FANS TEN YANKS

parently the Athletics didn't have to win this ball game; the Yanks lost it.

Pirates Look Good
The National League furnished most of the competition, each of its four games decided on the basis of one-run finishes. The Pirates, for instance, lasted to the wire to beat the Reds, 7 to 6, proving that their punch isn't anybody's carress, even with Traynor and L. Warner out of action. As for the Phillies' reputed punch, it was like an overcoat that somebody has permanently borrowed.

It wasn't there. The Phils got only seven hits off Clark but these were enough to beat the Dodgers 1 to 0, because the thing the Phils weren't supposed to have, namely pitching, was exactly the thing they got from Sweetland. He stopped the Dodgers with three hits and won his own ball game with a double. He didn't cover much ground out in right field, however.

The Senators also got a three-hit game from some kid pitcher named Brown, thus restoring the Red Sox to some semblance of order. They lost

"Bargain Gas" sez Bill, "Never gave ANY motor power & pick-up"

"SYLVESTER," sez I, "you remind me o' the bird that put green goggles on his horse so he could feed 'im shavings in place o' grass. You got a hundred horses stabled under the hood of that bus of your'n. And what do you feed 'em? The cheapest 'bargain' gas you can find. No wonder you don't get no power or pick-up!"

"If you want to see that car eat up a handful of miles in next to no time, load the tank with Freedom New Golden Gas, and give her the gun. There's a gas that's just made for mileage!"

Impulse And Suggestion Called Causes Of Drinking

(International News Service)
DETROIT, April 16.—Drinkers can be divided into two classes—those prompted by impulse and those prompted by suggestion.

Such is the opinion of Mrs. Josephine Goman, philosopher, bachelor of science, and mother of five children, who recently assailed many time honored ideas about the drinking and drinkers.

"I think alcohol is awfully good for the individual," Mrs. Goman said. "I'm not willing to speak for society. It may be very bad for society."

"There are two kinds of drinkers: those prompted by impulse and those prompted by suggestion, and they drink for three different reasons: to be stimulated, to be intoxicated, and to be stupefied."

"A drinker who desires stupefaction is in an abnormal psychological state. He does not seek relief from his environment and is in danger of becoming a habitual drinker."

Mrs. Goman declared that the mind varies with the individual in intoxication, which is always accompanied by satisfaction and pleasant relief from tension, even though the drinker may be angry.

"There is no reason to consider alcohol because of its stupefying effects, any more dangerous than strenuous exercise which causes the same dreamless sleep. But stupefaction is negative, whereas intoxication is positive and constructive. Instead of removing realities, it changes the mind to conform with them."

Mrs. Goman scored belief in inherited desire for alcohol. A second generation may seek relief in drink from an inherited nervous tendency, but an emotional release, such as is religion, would serve as well, she declared.

The persons who drink for stimulation, never change to drinking for intoxication, said Mrs. Goman, unless he undergoes a complete mental change. Alcohol is not habit forming. An intoxicated person can call his will to mind, as in case of accident showing he gets drunk with consent of the will.

Drinking is merely a symptom of a condition, said Mrs. Goman. It is the cause that should attract our interest, not drunkenness itself. It is vain to try to stop drinking without removing the cause of the desire for stupefaction, which is abnormal and belongs in the psychopathic neurotic class.

D. A. R. Members Are Opposed To World Court Plan

(International News Service)
WASHINGTON, April 16.—Today, two days after President Hoover endorsed American membership of the World Court in a speech before the 39th Continental Congress of the Daughters of the American Revolution, the organization again went on record as opposing any and all foreign entanglements.

Through acceptance of a report of its committee of correct use of the flag, the Congress declared itself as flatly opposed to all efforts to "drag the United States into a tangle of European politics, by way of the league of nations or by way of a world court or by way of a consultation pact or by any means little or big, slight or important, to get us involved in European diplomacy or in European offensive or defensive operations."

PRELIMINARY WRIT GRANTED BY COURT IN PAVING CONTRACT

its bid, which was $210.50 more than the bid of the Victor Olsen Construction company of Youngstown, the lowest bidder.

The prayer of the petitioners as presented by Martin & Martin states that the city council awarded the contract to the Woods & Golder Construction company, which concern was not the lowest bidder, instead of to the Victor Olsen Construction company, to which concern it should have been awarded, being the lowest bidder. The city council by a vote of three to two, arbitrarily and without reason in law, refused to award the contract to the lowest bidder and awarded it to the Woods & Golder Construction company at a bid of $210.50 in excess of the bid of the Olsen company.

It further asks that the injunction be made perpetual and that the award to the Woods & Golder Construction Company be declared illegal and void and that the contract be awarded to the Victor Olsen Construction company, the lowest bidder in the paving of the streets.

VICTIM FOOLS BANDIT WITH CLEVER RUSE

(International News Service)
LOS ANGELES, Cal., April 16.—It is getting so that hard working bandits can't believe a word their victims say.

Take the case of Mr. and Mrs. F. M. Barnes, hotel owners.

"I'm just a working man and only have a few dollars," Barnes told a gunman when his car had been forced to the curb by the bandit machine. He handed over several dollar bills.

"Give me your bill folder," the bandit ordered.

"Haven't got one," said Barnes.

"Get out while I search you," said the robber.

"If you do that, my car will roll down the hill," replied the victim. "The emergency won't work and I have been too poor to get it fixed."

"All right, beat it," said the bandit. Barnes followed orders with $80 in his pocket and his wife who still had her diamond rings on her fingers.

Warner Devises New Grid Formation

(International News Service)
STANFORD UNIVERSITY, Calif., April 16.—Coach Glenn Warner of Stanford university has added "Formation C" to the already famous "Formation B" he teaches his football players.

The new formation has undergone experimentation in spring football practice and according to reports from the gridiron has not been found wanting.

"Formation C" is said to be a combination of the B and punt formations used in certain plays of Stanford football teams. The ends line up two yards outside their tackles. The wing halfbacks are one yard behind the line, the fullback and tackle.

Positions of the fullback and quarterback are the same in B and C formations. The line in "Formation C" is balanced.

Coach Warner also has experimented with other formations in spring practice. Their full intent probably will be unveiled until Stanford goes into action against the University of Southern California and other powerful eleven on the Pacific coast this autumn.

Inventor Of Alarm Clock Is Honored

MILAN, April 16.—This Italian city is rendering honor to Dr. Andrea Alciati. If anyone ever deserved honor it is this man. Four centuries ago he invented the little instrument which wakes millions of people each morning and gets them off in time to their daily tasks. He invented the alarm clock which not only rang a bell, but lighted a candle at the same time.

G. A. R. Members Rebuke Darrow

(International News Service)
BOSTON, April 16.—Members of the G. A. R. at a recent meeting in Faneuil Hall administered a rebuke to Clarence Darrow, noted criminal attorney and liberalist, for what they regard as a slur on Abraham Lincoln.

The G. A. R. members also administered a rebuke to Chairman Donahue of the State Democratic Committee for saying "the Butler strategy is Grand Army politics."

This thoughtless generation won't forget the noble phrases of Lincoln's Gettysburg address so long as Mr. Coolidge is asked to dedicate something occasionally.
